FULL INQUIRY ON VANCOUVER FAIR'S LOSSES

Board Seeks All Facts After Auditor's Report on Years of Frauds

Profits Shown Despite Inroads

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 31.—Members of the Vancouver Exhibition Association board of control today were holding an emergency meeting to consider a report presented to the Vancouver City Council yesterday by Walter Wardhaugh, head of the city's internal audit department.

Directors of the exhibition association said that, despite extensive defalcations in recent years, as disclosed by recent audit, the Canada Pacific Exhibition was the only one of its class in Canada that had shown a profit during the depression years, in addition to meeting its interest and sinking fund charges.

THOROUGH INQUIRY

The Wardhaugh report will mean "the most searching investigation so far of the exhibition board may do those things that are for the good of the exhibition," Walter Leek, president, said.

Mr. Leek expressed surprise that the report had been made public before the exhibition board had received it.

NO ESTIMATE MADE

In his report Auditor Wardhaugh said "continuity of fraud" in the records of the Vancouver Exhibition Association was so "appalling" that it would be impossible to estimate the monetary loss suffered by the association since 1931.

The City Council instructed Mr. Wardhaugh to discontinue the audit for the years prior to 1937, and referred the report to the board of control of the exhibition.

On December 15 last L. A. White, exhibition accountant, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary after he had pleaded guilty to theft of $41,831 of association funds. The Wardhaugh attempted audit followed.

MAINTENANCE CHECKS

Mr. Wardhaugh's report said that "commencing June 24, 1931, and up to the present time, the association has been maintaining its accounts on a basis of estimated figures."

By GEORGE FINLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Edmonton, March 31.—Decks were cleared for the introduction of Social Credit legislation in the Alberta Legislature today.

A truce had been declared between the followers of Premier Abernethy and the group of insurgent Social Credit members.

Adoption of the administration's Social Credit legislation will be sought and then the House will adjourn to permit the government to put its programme into operation. The adjournment will be for from six weeks to at most ten, it was indicated today.

When the adjournment will come will depend on the progress made in the passage of the Social Credit and accompanying debt legislation. It may be by the end of this week or early next week.

Il Duce is busy in Rome at present with affairs growing out of the Spanish war, but not long ago he was a visitor in Libya, Italy's colony in North Africa. His action in cutting short that tour and hurrying back to Rome caused much discussion in other countries. The picture above was taken while Mussolini, accompanied by Marshal Italo Balbo, Governor of the African colony, was congratulating a delegation of mothers and babies in a Libya settlement.

Injunction Bars Newsboy Pickets

Associated Press
Seattle, Wash., March 31.—The Seattle Newsboys' Union and the American Federation of Labor today obtained a temporary injunction restraining a so-called "raux and file" union faction from picketing news stands operating under union regulations.

Presiding Judge Hugh C. Todd of the U.S. Superior Court signed the order, returnable April 9, when the defendants must show cause before Judge J. T. Ronald why he should not make the order permanent.

The pickets carried large signs reading "this news stand unfair to majority of news boys."

Threatened picketing of the plants of the city's two afternoon papers had not occurred by late forenoon.

SETTLEMENT OF SWISS PLANNED

Railways Bringing Party to B.C.; Province Not Participating

The B.C. government is not taking any part in a plan to bring a number of Swiss families to this province to settle on agricultural lands in the Columbia Valley and the Prince George district. The Department of Lands said today.

Reports from the interior state that under a scheme worked out jointly by the C.P.R. and C.N.R. colonization departments, some 300 families will be brought to the province. They will be capable farmers, financing themselves. The land on which they are to live has been selected by the Fruitful Colonization Society of Switzerland and will be purchased by the intending settlers.

Provincial sources said they had no word of the proposal to bring out 300 families but the Lands Department had been advised that six single Swiss farmers and six couples would be settled in the Prince George area by the C.N.R. The province, it was stated, is not participating in any way.

NEW PICTURE STARTS SOON

Central Films to Begin "Murder Goes North" in Week; Lake Is Built

"Murder Goes North," eighth picture to be made in Victoria by Central Films Limited, will go into production one week from today, it was announced this morning by Kenneth J. Bishop, producer.

At 1:30 o'clock this morning the company completed the last shots of "Women Against the World."

Bob Allen, rising outdoor star of Columbia Pictures, will take the leading role in the new picture, which is a Royal Canadian Mounted Police story.

Sheila Bromley, formerly known as Sheila Manners, will be the leading lady. Other members of the cast will be Edgar Edwards, who took a major part in "Women Against the World," Dorothy Bradshaw and James Thomas, heavy, who played in "It Happened One Night" and "Bengal Lancer."

Rin-Tin-Tin Jr., famous dog screen star, will have a prominent part in the picture.

Frank McDonald has been borrowed from Warner Brothers to direct "Murder Goes North." He will be supported by the technical crew at present here, and which made "Women Against the World." William "Scotty" Brown, assistant director, was to leave for Hollywood today and to return by car with his wife in time for the start of production.

The actors and director are scheduled to reach Victoria on Saturday, Rin-Tin-Tin Jr. will arrive Monday.

Central Films' famous "cow town" built in the space between the studios and the old automobile building at the Willows, is at present being transformed into a lakeside community somewhere in northwest Canada. Several of the buildings have developed log walls, and a new Mounted Police post is being erected. The lake will be dug within a few days, and will be suitably lined with willows and equipped with canoe landings. Similar landings will be erected on the shores of one of the lakes around Victoria, probably Beaver Lake, for matching location shots with those on the artificial waterfront.

About 75 per cent of the picture will be made out of doors, with the old Ritz hotel and Royal Oak as one of the principal locations.

Work of erecting new sets in the Willows studio will start tomorrow morning with a crew of fifteen men on the job. Sets to be erected include the dining room, kitchen and living room of a ranch, the inside of the R.C.M.P. post, a hotel lobby, a bar, and the office of a lumber company. The living room set will be in two decks, with an upstairs balcony.

The story, which centres around a lumber camp inherited by a girl whose uncle comes out from England to help her run it, involves three murders.

The last scene of "Women Against the World" was shot on Store Street near the E. & N. depot in the early hours of this morning. It portrayed the killing in a gun fight with gangsters of Edgar Edwards.

EARWIG PEST IS FORESEEN

Females Underground Laying; Poison Bait Should Be Used

From observations made in local gardens, there will be another pest of earwigs in Victoria and district this year.

Earwigs are coming out of the ground at the present time, apparently none the worse for the severe winter.

But the earwigs who venture forth on nocturnal feasts of tender young gardeners, there will be another pest of earwigs in Victoria and district this year.

This is most unfortunate for the gardener as the male, aside from a snack on a forget-me-not or two, is a harmless old fellow.

The female of this species is not at all deadly, but is certainly more dangerous than the male. And it is at its most dangerous occupation at the present time—laying eggs underground.

W. Downes, Dominion entomologist, who has been waging war against the worst pest of the coast garden with poison bait and deadly parasites, suggests that gardeners make their first application of poison bait during April.

He points out that the more females killed off at the present time, the better it will be, as a single female is capable of laying fifty eggs.

A renewed parasite assault against the earwig hosts will be made, and the entomological department hopes to parasitize 100,000 earwigs this year. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

CONDITION OF MAN CRITICAL

Albert Woods Seriously Hurt in Car Crash; James Scoular Also in Hospital

Suffering from a ruptured blood vessel in the abdomen, Albert Woods, thirty-seven, 2629 Bismarck Street, is in critical condition at the Jubilee Hospital as the result of a collision between a light delivery truck and an automobile at the corner of Quadra Street and Pandora Avenue yesterday afternoon.

James S. Scoular, St. James Hotel, driver of the truck in which Woods was a passenger, is also in the Jubilee Hospital suffering from cuts about the face and head injuries. His condition is not reported serious, although he was badly hurt.

Archie S. Miller, 360 Cook Street, driver of the car, escaped with only a leg bruise.

The accident occurred about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to a city police report.

JUST TURNED CORNER
Miller, the report said, had been proceeding south on Quadra Street and had just turned the corner to travel west on Pandora Avenue. The truck driven by Scoular was travelling west on Pandora Avenue. It crashed into the Miller car about sixty-five feet west of the intersection on the north side of Pandora Avenue.

The impact threw Woods out of the machine into the middle of the street. The front of the truck was stove in and all glass in the machine was shattered. Damage to the Miller car was confined to the rear and left side.

Woods was rushed to the hospital in the police ambulance by Constables James Strong and John Blackstock. Scoular was taken to hospital by Geoffrey Edgelow and Richard McCulloch, who were passing at the time.

TRANSFUSION GIVEN
Dr. J. H. Moore took charge of Woods at the hospital and performed an immediate operation after a blood transfusion had been given. At the hospital this morning his condition was said to be fair but still critical.

Scoular is under the care of Dr. Hermann Robertson.

Trade Schools Are Controlled

Five-cent Hair Cuts, Fifty-cent Permanent Waves Set As Maximums

Regulations designed to prevent direct competition between barbering and hairdressing schools and regular shops offering these services were passed by the provincial government today under the new B.C. Trades Schools Act.

Important features of the new rules are the fixing of maximum prices for services performed in the trade schools, specifying that no fully-trained operators may work in the schools except as instructors, that instruction courses must be at least 1,000 hours.

Each student in a school must have a contract with the proprietor, approved by the Minister of Labor.

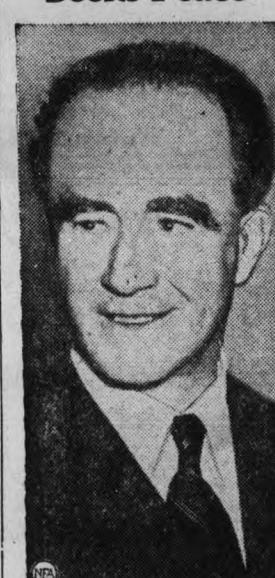

People getting services performed in the schools are to be regarded as models, but nominal charges may be made for materials and services. The maximums in barber colleges are: Haircut, shaves and shampoos, 5 cents; facials, 10 cents. In hairdressing schools the maximums are: Permanent curling, 50 cents; finger waving, 15 cents; shampooing, 10 cents; manicuring 15 cents.

Craigflower Site For Tourist Park

Bungalow Auto Court of Deluxe Type Being Erected By John Christie on Historic Hudson's Bay Property; Elaborate Development Project to Be Completed By June 1

One of the most important development projects which Victoria has witnessed in many years is now taking place on the former Hudson's Bay Company's property at Craigflower Bridge.

It is the site of a deluxe bungalow court and recreational park designed especially for the accommodation and entertainment of automobile tourists and is the most elaborate scheme of its kind ever undertaken on this side of the border.

John Christie, well-known in the business life of Victoria, who recently purchased the E. W. Paterson residence in the Uplands, is the owner of the property and is personally supervising the work of construction.

M. "Pat" Paine is the general contractor.

Cost of the bungalow construction now under way is estimated at $36,000, but the completed project is expected to be in excess of $50,000. Each double bungalow, complete with fixtures and furnishings, will cost $3,000. The figure paid by the owner for the land, which comprises many acres of wooded lands extending from Craigflower Bridge to Portage Inlet, has not been disclosed.

HISTORIC SITE
The site has an historic background, being linked with the early settlement days of Victoria. When Mr. Christie bought the Craigflower property he realized its historic significance and in mapping out his development scheme decided to preserve as far as possible its association with the early development of the city.

The first unit of the auto recreational park at Craigflower comprises twelve duplex bungalows, or twenty-four three-room apartments of the most modern type and equipped with every feature in the way of comfort and convenience.

Mr. Christie is following his own ideas in developing the property. He has studied the super-auto courts (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Associated Press
Tangier, Moroccan International Zone, March 31.—A widespread counter-revolutionary plot to seize Spanish Morocco, birthplace of the Spanish civil war, from insurgent General Francisco Franco was reported here today to have been crushed.

Insurgent authorities of the north African protectorate were reported by the semi-official Valencia news agency, Agence Espagne, to have summarily executed fifty men and arrested 1,100 officers, soldiers and civilians in Tetuan.

(Advices received by the Continental Daily Mail in Paris said 110 executions had been carried out in Ceuta Sunday. The men who were shot in two groups—fifty at one time, sixty at another—were reported to have been part of 400 suspects rounded up there.)

CITY IS GIVEN INTEREST CUT

Rate on $536,000 Capital Loan Reduced By One-half Per Cent to 4 Per Cent

A reduction of one half of 1 per cent in interest charges against the city's capital loan from the Bank of Montreal, to become effective tomorrow, was announced today.

The reduction, covering an amount of $536,000, will effect a saving of $2,680 a year for the city.

D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller-treasurer, informed the mayor of the bank cut which reduced the interest charge from 4½ per cent to 4 per cent, the same rate as that at which the current loan is carried.

The capital loan covers borrowings for relief in 1932 and for a loan secured on security of unsold refunding debentures in 1935 and 1936.

Cut in Tariff May Lower Auto Prices

was Empire content. This has been reduced to 40 per cent.

The Tariff Board found the net return to Canadian manufacturers of automobiles "is fairly generally in excess of that same net return to the United States manufacturers, plus the advance represented by existing duties and taxes imposed on the United States dealers' price." The board suggested the government could invoke section 17 of the Customs Tariff Act to reduce tariffs if it felt automobile manufacturers were taking undue advantage of the protection afforded. Section 17 empowers the government to reduce tariffs without the sanction of Parliament.

It was explained by departmental officials today that any action under section 17 would not be a matter for the budget. The government would do it under order-in-council.

RATES ON FURNITURE

The increased tariff on furniture also follows the recommendation of the Tariff Board.

When the trade agreement with the United States came into effect January 1, 1936, the protection enjoyed by Canadian manufacturers of furniture against importations from the United States was cut from 48 per cent to 30 per cent, less 10 per cent, or actually 27 per cent. (The extra 10 per cent arises out of provisions of the Canada-France treaty.)

The board recommended this be increased to 37½ per cent, less 10 per cent, or a net duty of 33½ per cent.

Reductions are made in three items in fur felt, wool felt hats and shapes and materials used in the manufacture of hats.

which in turn will select a commission of experts to administer the government's plans.

Premier Abernethy yesterday introduced an amended bill to the Social Credit Measures Act passed at the last session, eliminating the administration of the act by order-in-council. It was given first reading.

The Premier indicated he would seek speedy passage. It would remove Social Credit operation from "all political influence," he believed.

"We are very anxious to introduce Social Credit principles into our province at as early a date as possible," Mr. Abernethy said.

The policy of the government was said to meet the demands of the insurgents. They had demanded the appointment of a commission free from political control and early introduction of Social Credit legislation.

They opposed the budget presented March 12 by Provincial Treasurer Solon E. Low, because it was "too orthodox" and maintained taxation features, including the 2 per cent sales tax, held contrary to Social Credit principles.

Introduction of the interim estimates, totaling more than $5,000,000, including $500,000 as a separate supply for seed grain relief, made way for the government's programme. The bill for interim estimates, piloted by Provincial Treasurer Low, was given second reading yesterday and was scheduled to come up for final passage this afternoon.

This compares with 80,000 parasitized earwigs released in various parts of British Columbia last year and 30,000 released in 1935.

"People must not expect too much from these parasites," Mr. Downes said. The recovery of parasites has been small and it has become evident that the increase of parasites here is slow.

Diglossina setipennis, the gardener's ally against the earwig, is a tiny, harmless fly. It is a native of Great Britain and parts of Europe, and entomologists advance the view that it will take a little time to get acclimatized here.

The larva of this fly lives on the earwig.

Japan In Lively Election Campaign

Diet Dissolved By Emperor On Advice of Army; Polling Set For April 30

Associated Press

Tokio, March 31.—The Japanese army, charging leaders of the political parties with obstructing "vital" laws for national defence, forced dissolution of Parliament today.

The dissolution was ordered by Emperor Hirohito on the advice of Premier Senjuro Hayashi, and made a general election mandatory within thirty days.

The new crisis arose suddenly with the stormy seventeenth session of the Diet due for only a few more hours of normal life.

Realizing there was no chance of pushing through the bills they considered vital, the army leaders, in co-operation with the navy, brought pressure to bear on the Premier to advise the Emperor to order dissolution.

ELECTION APRIL 30
The government announced the new election would be called April 30 to choose 466 members for a new House of Representatives.

A continued state of unrest is expected to last throughout the month's campaign, stirred by political leaders' charges a Fascist-inclined military clique was attempting to dominate empire affairs.

Nearly forty bills, some, such as the steel industry control and national fuel bills considered to be of major importance, the army charged, had been blocked by "a lack of sincerity" on the part of members of the lower House which left doubt "whether they intended to contribute to the welfare of the Empire."

Before they took the drastic action, however, the army and navy had succeeded in pushing passage of the record $802,400,000 budget, of which more than half, or $401,700,000, goes to the army and navy.

The House of Peers is not affected by the dissolution and election order. The parliamentary crisis had been brewing ever since the cabinet, led by Gen. Hayashi, came into office early in February under a cloud of open hostility between militarists and the political parties. Reconvening of the Diet was postponed several times to give the new government time to revise the budget which had led to the fall of Premier Koki Hirota's cabinet.

to September, 1936, defalcations in connection with park maintenance charges on the city alone represented a loss of $45,866, without taking into consideration other parent losses.

The report does not blame any particular official for the condition of the records and states that many of the conditions were due to slackness in office administration.

The City Council, in sending the report to the exhibition board of control, stated that "no doubt the board will demand from those concerned an explanation of the shortcomings alleged. And if such explanation is not complete and satisfactory will lay all the facts before its legal advisers so that if proceedings are thought necessary they may be instituted without delay."

STARTED WITH SMALL SUMS

"Up to the year 1930 the evidence is that frequent manipulations involving small sums had been engaged in," the Wardlaw report said. "During 1930 and 1931 it would appear that much larger sums had been obtained by the forging of cheques and other means." He then outlined some of the losses between 1931 and 1936.

To make any attempt to estimate the monetary loss would prove useless, said the report.

He added that it was only fair to state that the promotion and development of the exhibition activities appeared to have been under continuous attention from the management and that considerable economy seems to have been practiced in connection with what might be described as "the physical affairs of the association."

ing with the double edged weapon of execution and arrest.

Fifty persons were executed and 1,100 thrown into jail, latest reports related.

Advices describing the executions and arrests of officers, civilians and soldiers said the revolt was crushed, but today's reports indicated the situation still was serious.

MOVEMENT FOR REPUBLIC

There was a strong republican movement at Ceuta against the Fascist-insurgent regime in the Spanish zone and the populace, some persons stated, was kept from rioting only by the most rigid measures.

Efforts to confirm the advices, which came from several sources, were hindered by the fact that telephonic communication with Tetuan, capital of Spanish Morocco, was cut for the second time in twenty-four hours.

One traveler said diplomatic circles in Tetuan believed the situation was serious. The insurgent regime maintained such a strict censorship that confirmation was impossible, he said.

In one quarter it was reported the "Italian colonials" had come from Italy-conquered Ethiopia, but whether they were Italians or native troops was not clear.

SMOKE SCREEN

Diplomatic sources at Tangier attributed recent insurgent assertions the French were stirring up trouble in Spanish Morocco to a desire to cover the growing agitation in that region, birthplace of the revolt last July 18 which became a civil war.

The Spanish population of Ceuta is mixed in origin and is split on political beliefs. A strong republican movement has been reported there, representing a serious threat to the insurgent regime.

GERMAN CRUISER SENT

In some quarters it was believed the arrival of a new German cruiser at Ceuta had resulted from this agitation.

One unconfirmed report said Italians had been offering bribes at Tetuan in an attempt to gain greater privileges—which they declared the insurgent authorities were giving to Germans.

ITALY KEEPS PLEDGE

which are so popular with the motoring public in California.

LANDSCAPING SCHEME

The landscape development is gradually taking place and when the scheme is complete the buildings will rest in a beautiful setting. For instance, a muddy slough running into the Gorge has been converted by means of well-placed sluice boxes into a series of locks and lakes, with trees, shrubs, flowers and green lawn. Rustic bridges will add to the beauty of the site.

A stone seawall is being built along the front of the property facing the Gorge to form a pleasing embankment which will be finished with red gravelled walks and tree-studded driveways, bordered with grass lawns.

The trees which will line the driveways, have already been planted. The bungalows will fit into the landscape in the form of three sides of a square, in the centre of which will be located a gas-fired heating plant to provide a continuous supply of hot water to the bungalows.

Each bungalow apartment will contain a living-room with fireplace, a bedroom with separate tiled shower, a kitchen equipped with gas stove, cupboards and cooler, a toilet and garage with sliding door. The exterior finish will be stucco, with gay shingle roofs.

Gas will be piped from the city mains a mile away to provide heating and cooking fuel.

Electricity will be available for lighting and supplying power for the electrical conveniences.

RECREATIONAL PLANS

The recreational facilities of the park will include launches and canoes, a swimming pool and a teeing course. Scoop loads of sand will be dumped to make a beach.

Two miles of bridle trails have been built through the main park property and a riding school will be maintained. Stabling accommodation has already been provided for a number of riding horses.

The Craigflower parkland now being developed to meet modern demands is the historic property and farmhouse established by the Hudson's Bay Company in 1853. The original farmhouse, which stands on the higher ground where the bridge converges on the Island Highway, was built eighty-four years ago as the home of Manager Kenneth MacKenzie, who was sent to Victoria to take charge of the Craigflower farm, one of four large farms established by the Hudson's Bay Company in the district.

The others were the Langford, Skinner's Cove and Macaulay Point farms. The Langford farm, where the Royal Colwood Golf Club is now located, was established in 1923, just one year before the Craigflower farm.

It was in 1840 that the Hudson's Bay Company leased the Alaska Panhandle and the farms were required to supply produce for the Russians who populated Sitka, the capital of Alaska at that time.

Some controversy exists as to whether the Craigflower farmhouse or the historic old schoolhouse on the city side of the bridge first came into existence, although it is believed by Hudson's Bay Company historians that the farmhouse is the older building. The Craigflower schoolhouse, it is believed, was erected in 1854.

The development work now going on at the Craigflower bridge is being carried forward as rapidly as possible, so that it will be ready for the opening of the tourist season.

The contractors expect to get through by June 1.

Funds Are Voted For Two MonthsInterim Supply Bill Granting Government One-sixth of 1937-1938 Estimates Passed By Commons and Senate

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 31.—By unanimous consent, the House of Commons yesterday passed an interim supply bill granting the government one-sixth of the estimates for the fiscal year 1937-38.This is the customary procedure when the estimates and supply bill have not been passed on expiration of the fiscal year on March 31. It places funds at the disposal of Finance Minister Dunning to carry on the public service pending passage of the general supply bill for the year.
Quick action in the Senate followed the Commons vote. Approval of one-sixth of the 1937-38 estimates was given by the Upper House yesterday evening.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR 1936-37

Estimates covering the Dominion Government's contributions to the debt-reduction plans for the drought areas of Manitoba and Saskatchewan amounting to about $19,000,000 were approved by the House of Commons yesterday evening, along with other items in the supplementary estimates for the fiscal year 1936-37 ending today.Writing down of Saskatchewan's debt to the Dominion, for which $17,- 959,606 was provided, was condoned in principle by Conservative Leader R.
B. Bennett, but to do it by placing an item on the estimates he described as a "most extraordinary transaction."
Mr. Bennett not only declared the arrangement should be the subject of a specific statute, but that it was unfair not to have included Alberta in the scheme and that it was establishing a dangerous precedent.

ALBERTA'S COURSE

Finance Minister Charles Dunning said the same provisions had been available to Alberta, but that province had not availed itself of the opportunity. It had adopted other means of debt and interest adjustment which did not require cooperation of the Dominion.

GRAIN INQUIRY

Another item approved by the House was one of $103,000 for expenses of the Royal Grain Inquiry, appropriated by executive action under a Governor-General's warrant.Other items approved were Governor-General's warrants of $82,000 for administration of the Annuities Act, $45,000 for expenses of the Royal Commission on Textiles and $10,000 for expenses of the High Commissioner's office in London.

GEN. ERIC LUDENDORFF

Associated Press

Berlin, March 31.—Chancellor Hitler and General Erich Luden-dorff, the aged "Stormer of Liege," have had a heart-to-heart talk "to remove difficulties and misunderstandings," according to an authoritative statement. The talk, it was indicated had a "satisfactory result."General Ludendorff, who was Field Marshal von Hindenburg's chief of staff on both the eastern and western fronts during the Great War, expressed gratification that Hitler had renounced the Treaty of Versailles
"point by point," especially in rearming the Rhineland.General Ludendorff rebuffed the Nazis when they came to power four years ago.Choosing Mounties

Regina, March 31.—Inspection of candidates for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Coronation contin-gent was started here yesterday by Assistant Commissioner S. T. Wood of Ottawa.The "Mounties" who hope to be chosen for the trip to London have been training at the Regina barracks for some weeks under Superintendent
C. H. Hill.After their inspection the assistant commissioner will report to Commissioner Sir James H. MacBrien, who will officially announce the selection.
Thirty-five men will be picked.St. John's, Nfld., March 31 (Canadian Press).—Eight school children have been picked from Newfoundland to attend the Empire youth rally in London in connection with the Coronation of King George VI. The children will go to Canada first, joining the Canadian contingent at Montreal April 30, according to an official announcement.Duke of Kent May

London, March 31.—King George and Queen Elizabeth have definitely renounced plans to tour a number of the Dominions following their don Daily Mirror.According to the paper, the Duke and Duchess of Kent will make the trip in their place. During their eight-month tour the King's brother and his wife will visit Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, the paper said.Boy Actor Dies

Discussion in U.S.Laws Should Include Men As Well As Women, Says
Roosevelt

Associated Press

Washington, March 31.—Argument over judiciary reorganization in the United States turned today on the type of legislation President Roosevelt wishes to validate by revamping the U.S. Supreme Court, and on whether the pending bill would bring about his objectives.The President himself provided the latest hint. At a press conference late yesterday, he expressed the opinion state minimum wage legislation should not be confined to women—as in the Washington law just upheld
—but should cover all persons.If Attorney General Cummings rules the District of Columbia wage statute for women and minors is inoperative, he said, Congress will be asked to enact another covering men as well.This law was invalidated by the Supreme Court fourteen years ago, but it was upheld last Monday when the court sustained the Washington State law.

TIME FACTOR

It was said in official quarters a division existed within the administration on whether to press for federal wage and hour legislation at this time.The ultimate decision apparently will depend on studies being made by Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson and others. The President said it was much too early to discuss the subject publicly.SENATE SPEEDS UP MEASURESRapid Progress Made With Legislation in Upper House Yesterday

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 31.—The revised trade agreement with the United Kingdom is a success, in the opinion of Senator Raoul Dandurand. As a bill based on the agreement received approval in the Senate yesterday evening, the government leader said the spirit of "give and take" was exemplified in the measure and no Canadian industry should feel apprehensive over it.Senator Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, said the changes from the 1932 agreement were so minor that the new agreement was practically a "photograph" of the original.Rapid progress was made with a variety of legislation yesterday evening. Brakes were applied, however, when the bill to revise the capital structure of the Canadian National Railways was reached. Mr. Meighen declared the accountants' jargon in the bill made it vague for the layman.
He suggested it had not been understood by 3 per cent of the members of the House of Commons. It was laid over until today for second reading.The Senate approved the interim supply bill, made necessary by the ending today of the government's fiscal year.

imum of 5 per cent income tax on

May Be LoweredBritish Press Comments on London Visit of N. H. DavisLondon, March 31.—Norman H.
Davis's visit to London was coupled by the British press today with Governor-General Lord Tweedsmuir's trip to Washington as evidencing the United States' gradual abandonment of isolation in favor of economic cooperation with Great Britain.Discussing the United States ambassador-at-large's arrival in England today to attend the international sugar conference, The London Daily Herald declared:"Norman Davis has come to London primarily to see what the British government would do if President Roosevelt were to put forward proposals for lowering trade barriers and removing trade restrictions. Let us have no nonsense this time. Davis brings us a big opportunity. Let us take it."The London Daily Telegraph said:
"The traditional American conviction of the excellence of isolation, economic and political, has of late begun to yield to the overwhelming evidence that in the modern world full prosperity is not possible to any nation standing alone and that the rigors of economic nationalism makes for war."Score Killed In Frontier ClashBritish Force Has Casualties in Engagement With India Tribesmen

Canadian Press from Havas

Peshawar, India, March 31.—
Twenty-two members of a British expeditionary force were killed and forty-one others wounded in a "bolly war" engagement with the guerrilla troops of the Pakir of Ipi in the Northwest Frontier Province yesterday.The force has been pressing an intensive campaign against the Pakir for weeks. He is accused of numerous raids on outlying villages and large-scale terroristic operations in his efforts to arouse the entire region in a holy war against British authorities.The biggest clash to date between the expeditionary force and the natives occurred on a trade route linking the northwestern centres of Mitrail and Razmak, where several hundred tribesmen ambushed a detachment of British and Indian troops.Two British officers were killed in addition to one Hindu officer and nineteen Hindu soldiers. Three Hindu non-commissioned officers and thirty-eight Hindu soldiers were wounded.Casualties among the Pakir's forces were spirited away by remnants of his troops, who disappeared into the wilds after the clash. The dead and wounded among the tribesmen were believed to be numerous, however.Farmers War
On Grasshoppers

Associated Press

Helena, Mont., March 31.—Threatened with its worst invasion of the crop-devouring Mormon cricket—a long black grasshopper—the west hopes to forestall damage with poison spray guns.Frank Cowan, assistant Montana entomologist, said today egg surveys indicated the infestation will be the heaviest on record, with insects attacking at least 400,000 acres of grain crops in nine states—Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana.The plan is to kill the pests before they can cause a total crop loss.
Ammunition will be a deadly poison in powder form, shot out of hand-operated "dust guns" carried by thousands of relief workers.The dusting will begin about April 15 and will be completed by June 30.
An allocation of $300,000 in relief funds has been set aside for the fight.Health Insurance Scheme Is Delayed

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, March 31.—The Manitoba Legislature intends to take no action toward setting up state health insurance until the province's financial difficulties have been adjusted.A motion by James Litterick, Communist, Winnipeg, for a committee of the Legislature to study the health insurance question was defeated in the House yesterday evening on request of Health Minister Griffiths.The minister said health insurance was bound to come in Manitoba, but he argued the issue could not be met until after the proposed royal commission on Dominion-provincial financial relationships had made its report.Three Tag Days

Vancouver, March 31.—The city council agreed yesterday to grant permission for but three annual tag days in Vancouver, after accepting the report of a special committee which recommended against tag days.Annual tag day privileges will be granted to the Loyal Protestant Home,

PAINS FOR 25 YEARSHis Arms Were Becoming UselessIt was about 25 years ago that rheumatism first marked down this sufferer; and finally the day came when he could hardly lift his arms. But he found relief—here in this letter he tells the whole story:—"About 25 years ago I first experienced slight muscular rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. A few years later lumbago also attacked me. They gradually got worse until the pain got acute in both arms and loins. I could not lift a jugful of water with my arms extended straight out. About 12 months ago I bought a bottle of Kruschen Salts and by the time it was finished I was agreeably surprised at a slight improvement. I bought another one, and when that was finished all the pain had disappeared, and has never appeared since."—T.R.The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are frequently caused by deposits of uric acid in the muscles and joints.
The numerous salts in Kruschen assist in stimulating the internal organs to healthy, regular activity, and help them to eliminate this excess uric acid.ESTABLISHED 1901

Tweedsmuir and Roosevelt

THE OTHER DAY THE CONSERVATIVE candidate for the provincial riding of Saanich told us that Prime Minister MacKenzie King "seems to be trying to make Canada some kind of subsidiary to the United States."

True, the Premier did go down to Washington to make a call on President Roosevelt and, quite possibly, the two executives talked about many things in which Canada and the United States have much in common. And why not?

Is there anything sinister in an exchange of views between the Prime Minister of Canada and the President of the United States? The young man who is to be the Conservative standard-bearer in Saanich ought to cultivate a wider breadth of vision.

By the way, a notable visitor to the White House at Washington, as this is written, is Viscount Tweedsmuir, the Governor-General of Canada, formerly known as John Buchan, the eminent novelist, and a former Conservative member of the British House of Commons. President Roosevelt and many dignitaries paid their respects to Lord Tweedsmuir.

Now, then, is it to be supposed that there is brewing a "new deal" between Governor-General Tweedsmuir and President Roosevelt for the partitioning of this country to the advantage of the United States?

Budding Conservatives ought to try to grow up.

"Everybody's Doing It"

CORONATION YEAR SEEMS TO be the year for the restoration of wage cuts and increases in salaries. The Canadian railway companies, and the governments of Canada, have fallen into line; and now we hear that the salary of Britain's Premier is to be increased from $25,000 to $50,000. But he draws his salary, not as Prime Minister, but as First Lord of the Treasury. To ratify this, there is a bill before the House of Commons this week, so if it goes through—as it will, of course—Mr. Baldwin will be getting $25,000 a year less than Sir Edward Beatty and the President of the United States.

At present, cabinet salaries range from $10,000 up to $25,000, except for the Lord High Chancellor. The bill will provide a pension, probably $10,000, for former Prime Ministers. Living former holders of the office are D. Lloyd George and J. Ramsay MacDonald. It is understood Prime Minister Baldwin will not accept a pension when he retires. He is independently wealthy.

Mr. Baldwin, of course, is unique in the realm of statesmanship. This is not to say that he has no competitors in that particular realm as it applies to his regard for material emolument. But Stanley Baldwin is for his country and for all the world that is really worth while.

Eleven Millions—and What?

HOW MANY PEOPLE, WE WONDER, noticed an item in the news the other day that Canada's population had passed the 11,000,000 mark?

We may be permitted to guess that very few observed this important fact. Those who did, of course, must have thought that this young country, with all its potentialities for development in every sense of the term, is destined to take a dominant place in the new orientation of world affairs.

Canadian youth has within its grasp a great opportunity these days. There will be those who will say: "What's the use?" It is quite natural—a natural question in the present undisturbed state of the world. But there is no reason why the "white flag" should be run up.

Canadians, eleven millions of them, ought to be able to solve their own problems, to persuade their youngsters to get on to the land and tell any future "depression" to take care of itself.

We Canadians have got to make up our minds that the job in the city is a precarious one; and to accept the old precept that a bankrupt farm makes a factory chimney topple.

These facts, perhaps not easy to follow, have a basis in the inexorable economic law. Canadian youth may yet get back to the land—that heritage which promises them so much.

It Will Come Out

THERE SEEMS TO BE A DESIRE in some quarters—political motive obvious—to try to stampede Attorney-General Gordon Sloan into publishing a report on the affairs of the Hedley Amalgamated Gold Mines Limited before such a report could possibly contain sufficient information to give the public the facts.

In Vancouver the other day, Mr. Sloan is reported to have said: "I am expecting a report from Mr. Fraser daily, regarding stock transactions in Hedley on the morning of, and prior to its suspension from the Vancouver Stock Exchange on February 23."

"However, until I know the nature of this report, I cannot state whether the text of it will be made immediately. It is just possible that in presenting a complete picture of everything that has transpired, it will be necessary to include a report of investigations being conducted at the company's mine, at Hedley, B.C., by R. H. Stewart, technical investigator."

As we have said in these columns before, it is the duty of the Attorney-General—and he realizes it—to use all the backing at his command to preserve the good name of the mining industry of British Columbia and to safeguard it from exploitation.

"Black eyes" have been given to many Canadian enterprises because there have been unscrupulous promoters. Mr. Sloan, we feel sure, will want to know what is going on in the speculative field in British Columbia in order to protect the investing public.

Democracy vs. Autocracy

MAYOR LA GUARDIA OF NEW YORK seems to be waging undeclared war on the Nazi government of Germany. He began it by sounding at some length on the evils of dictatorship. He suggested that New York install a chamber of horrors at its coming world's fair, and that it put the brown-shirted figure of a Nazi in it as a terrible example.

The German Government lodged a formal protest with the United States State Department, protesting a friendly power had been insulted. The State Department made the obvious reply—that while this might be so, there was no authority or tradition by which an American Government could exercise the remotest control over an American mayor.

Then the German newspapers swung into action. Der Angriff remarked darkly that Germany might take an interest in American events which "might not be precisely pleasant," unless Mayor La Guardia's "slandorous words" were retracted.

One sample from Der Angriff furnishes an example of Nazi literary style: "La Guardia is a dirty Talmud Jew, a Jewish boob, a procurer, a master New York gangster, an under-world character, a blackmailer, a man with cheap-joint brains, an impertinent Jewish lord, a filthy character, a well poisoner, a war profiteer and a Jewish inciter and apostle. . . ."

Other papers followed suit. The mayor was denounced as "an apostle of hate with a thieves' den mentality," as a "nasty fellow." Out of it all we get one of the frothiest teapots of tempers by which German-American relations have been troubled since Huey Long received a Nazi cruiser commander while clad in green silk pyjamas.

It is all one of those squabbles which are inevitable when the loose organization of a democracy bumps up against the completely regimented phalanx of a dictatorship. But it is rather instructive. The United States Government has no control at all over American mayors; the German Government has complete and absolute control over German newspaper editors. There lies the contrast.

Under the American democratic system a mayor can say and do anything he pleases without accounting to Washington for his acts. Under the other system, an editor says nothing whatever without the approval of the central government. His lightest word reflects the feeling of his overlords. If he "spouts" fish-wise abuse, he simply mirrors the mentality of the people on top.

Each system has its defects. But can any democrat doubt that the system of no control at all is a lot easier to live under than the system of too much control?

Britain and Her Customers

CALCULATIONS HAVE BEEN made by the British Board of Trade showing the percentages of British imports derived from the leading countries in the world during 1936. The United States still ships more merchandise to the United Kingdom than any other country. The percentage is, however, gradually declining. In 1924 the United States share was 18.88 per cent of the total. In 1935 it was 11.57 per cent, and in 1936 this shrank to 10.99 per cent.

Canada is second on the list and now enjoys 8.84 per cent of Britain's import trade, against 7.41 per cent in 1935 and 5.16 in 1924. Australia follows close behind, the percentage credited to the Commonwealth being 7.23 per cent, and India comes next with 6.11 per cent. The Argentine occupies the fifth place with 5.31 per cent, which represents a decline compared with 1935. New Zealand is sixth on the list with 5.15 per cent, and next in order of importance come Denmark (3.91 per cent), Germany (3.88), and France (3.03).

As regards British exports, South Africa is now Britain's best customer, absorbing 8.51 per cent of the total as compared with 7.89 per cent in 1935. India comes second with 7.75 per cent as against 8.89 in 1935. Australia took 7.32 per cent compared with 6.89 in the previous year. Great Britain improved her position in the United States market, which consumed 6.27 per cent of the total exports as compared with 5.37 in 1935. Canada is again fifth on the list with 5.28 per cent against 5.02 in the previous year.

Notes

Radical ideas are like spring flowers and romance. Their destroying enemy is time.

The English-speaking peoples have similar ideals and in a pinch can agree on everything—except English.

We moderns are not so efficient, after all. It now costs about $10,000 to kill a man, while in past days a simple spear did the same job.

This province ranks third in the volume of new building contracts awarded during March. The totals across Canada for the month ending today, according to today's MacLean Building Reports: are Ontario, $8,875,600; Quebec, $3,920,800; British Columbia, $2,162,200; Nova Scotia, $493,500; Manitoba, $306,400; New Brunswick, $116,300; Alberta, $98,900; Saskatchewan, $75,600; Prince Edward Island, $8,800. Considering our comparatively small population, British Columbia is up with the leaders in the long-awaited revival in construction.

Column Three

MANCHESTER MANIFESTO TO PEOPLES OF EUROPE

AT A RECENT meeting in the Free Trade Hall here, at which the Lord Mayor of Manchester presided, with Mr. Wickham Steed, Mr. A. M. Wall and Sir Arthur Haworth, Bart., as speakers, the following manifesto was unanimously approved: TO THE PEOPLES OF EUROPE:

"Europe draws near the brink of ruin. In friendship and goodwill we call her peoples to save themselves and her."

"Civil war, strife, envenomed from without, still rages in Spain. Throughout Europe weapons of war are being forged apace, industry and handicraft turned from constructive to destructive purposes. Europe thus squanders her heritage, damning herself to self-made penalty."

"Other peoples see her peril. From the New World come warnings—and an example. Respectful of present boundaries, and abjuring war, the nations of the two Americas have pledged themselves to take counsel together in time of need. The President of the United States has bidden them all ponder how they can 'help the Old World to avert the catastrophe which impends.'"

"Shall disaster indeed befall us? Shall Europe, mother of American nations, lag behind her children?"

"The peoples of Europe yearn for peace, even while they drift toward war. They lack leadership in united purpose. In union for freedom, peace and justice, they could open an era bright with hope and fruitful in achievement."

"Scientific triumphs over natural obstacles, the progressive conquest of distance, space and time, have brought European peoples closer together than ever before. With their new resources has come new power to hurt and destroy each other."

"Fearing for their safety within their borders, the nations of Europe mount guard against attack. Frontiers are bristling barriers between them. Yet by no change of frontier can Europe be made more spacious, the hungry be fed, the poor enriched and welfare fostered. Over all her frontiers, good or bad, a Europe set free from fear could build bridges of understanding and helpfulness."

"Every proved wrong could be righted, every just claim met in an equal comradeship of peaceful peoples. Science, industry, machines could ensure the livelihood of all workers, abolish poverty by fairer distribution of wealth, and create a nobler civilization."

"Let us, peoples of Europe, cease to labor for our own undoing. Heeding the example of the Americas, let us take counsel together. Let us firmly stand for peace and freedom. Let us make it known that we stand ready to defend them, strong in union and unafraid, conceding naught to threats of war, pledging all to works of peace. So we may save ourselves and help to save the world."

"We call the peoples to join hands above divisions of race, or class or creed. With its whole strength the British people is ready to foster peace in fellowship with all. Who will answer its appeal?"

DEMPSEY'S FULLER LIFE

EVEN a lovely wife and two charming children are not enough for a full life, according to Jack Dempsey, who adds that "the business of living cannot be run by only one person, but all persons as a community."

"I used to be content in the knowledge that I was the husband of a lovely little lady . . . that I had two charming children who were a joy to come home to," the former heavyweight champion and restaurateur writes in The True Story magazine. "But now I find that playing with the kids and admiring their mother is not enough."

The change in his viewpoint began, Dempsey says, when he was asked to raise money for a New York city hospital last year. "When that hospital committee associated me with their work," he writes, "I began to feel that I was really somebody in the world. I had been Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champ, with a thousand acquaintances, but now I was to help bring relief to many of my neighbors who were in distress. That was something more gratifying than mere personal achievement."

From his work for the West Side Hospital, and later for the Red Cross, Dempsey learned that "one cannot truly live a full and complete life unless one takes an interest in others. 'Assuming some sort of my responsibility as a citizen, as a member of my community, has brought a new responsibility into my life which has made it fuller and more satisfactory than it ever was before.'"

NO "HOT DOGS" FOR CORONATION CROWDS

ONE THING we think we ought to warn prospective Coronation visitors about is the fact that there will not be any hot dog vendors wandering around during the Coronation procession.

So far we only know one group of passengers who have settled the problem of how to satisfy the inner man during the long vigil of the Coronation procession.

This preparedness group has placed itself in the hands of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia and she has worked it all out. The little group will view the procession from the line's London offices in Trafalgar Square.

They will take their places early in the morning and will be served breakfast and lunch by the Empress staff. Those who have a waiter's eye—personally we have never been able to catch one—will recognize that they are being served by the very same stewards they had at sea.

BETTER TIMES UP NORTH

Business conditions in the north country are coming back. The worst of the depression is over and all lines of business are feeling the improvement. It has been a long, tough pull and may nothing happen now to disturb, or hold back the better times. It is not a matter of politics, but simply a return of good times to other parts of Canada being reflected in the north by an increased demand for the raw materials which the country can supply.

CRITICIZES NELLIE McCLUNG'S SYNTAX

To the Editor:—The composer of the article "My Love for a Train" in your last Saturday's paper murders the King's English.

In writing in the future tense she carelessly falls into an error, far too common today, of confusing the two words "will" and "shall."

She should ever bear in mind that the first person, both singular and plural, takes "shall" and not "will," viz:

I shall Thou wilt
He, she or it will
We shall
You will
They will

The error has been made four times in the article. Likewise, instead of using "should" in one place she has misused "would."

If there is any difficulty in remembering these fine points of the English language, it is recommended that a study of the German language be made. The aforesaid errors will then stand out strikingly.

A WELL-WISHER, BUT LOVER OF GOOD ENGLISH.

Passover

History's first emancipation proclamation and earliest blow for religious liberty is commemorated by Jewish people throughout the world in the Passover observances which began at the end of last week. They tell again the story of the Exodus from Egypt.

The Biblical tale is the central feature of the Seder service which is celebrated on the first night of Passover at the family table, or, as in many parts of the world today, at community gatherings. During the Seder service and for the ensuing week, pious Jews will partake of eating leavened and will partake of matzo, or unleavened bread, recalling the afflictions which their ancestors suffered under the Pharaohs.

Besides its historic message of freedom, Passover also celebrates the advent of spring. This can be traced to an ancient agricultural aspect of the festival. In Biblical times Passover marked the barley harvest, when all pious Jews would make a pilgrimage to Jerusalem and offer the first fruits with joyful ceremony and singing.

The emphasis in the holiday today is placed upon the deliverance from Egyptian bondage and upon the influence which this episode in Jewish history has wielded in the history of mankind.

Over three thousand years ago, according to the story told in the Book of Exodus, a great number of Jews dwelt in Egypt and were made slaves to the mighty Pharaohs. By their labor they built the mighty cities of Thebes and Ramesses. This physical slavery signified likewise the extent of their spiritual slavery.

At that time of bitterness Moses was born. From his youth he championed the cause of righteousness and fought for the rule of justice. He beheld the affliction of his people and his sense of righteousness was stung to the core. With prophetic fire he thundered forth the message of freedom to all Egypt and finally succeeded in leading the Jewish people out of this land of bondage.

Recalling this historic epic, the Jewish people recite these happenings every year. For out of this story mankind draws strength and inspiration in its eternal struggle against slavery and tyranny. By celebrating this Feast of Passover Jewry the world over voices its protest against the oppression and spiritual slavery current in many lands today.

REFORMS DON'T MEAN MUCH

To the Editor:—To reform a thing is to change or modify its structure, which does not, by any means imply a change of the base on which it rests. There is a vast difference between changing or modifying a thing and supplanting it by something entirely different, and it is well to understand that this premise holds as good for the present social structure as for any or all other things.

So it follows that when reformers set out to propagandize in relation to capitalism, they are not out to set it aside, but to attempt to make it function, in spite of the contradictions which the inevitable result of its development. The base of capitalism, is private, or class, ownership in the means of production, the motive force is profit, and the incentive is competition. This, of course, presupposes a capitalist class and a working class, and as the latter class depends on the former for the opportunity to live on in a general way, reforms don't mean much to the majority in relation to a better standard of living.

MUTILATORS OF LIBRARY BOOKS

To the Editor:—On the front page of every book in the public library is pasted an extract from the Criminal Code (Sec. 539) as a warning against vandalism. But apparently it has, as may be expected, very little effect on the feeble-minded.

The Times is to be commended for giving prompt publicity on March 24 to a letter to the editor written by a socially-minded correspondent, who is also to be commended.

As it is Marxian literature which is reported to have been mutilated, it must be obvious to many that reactionaries in this city are running true to form. Destroying the Bible will not stop religion; neither will the mutilation of Socialist literature retard social evolution. Lenin once said: "Revolutions are not brought about by those who suffer, but by those who suppress them." I. R.

GROWER GOT $8.40 INSTEAD OF $45 FOR HIS POTATOES

To the Editor:—If an investigation were made, it would be found that the men patrolling bridges for bootlegged spuds, are not farmers at all, but hired help of the Columbia growers and the potato board.

The majority of the small farmers on Lulu Island and all around are for the Chinese, because the white grower, "with the exception of a few," got a raw deal by the potato board. I am a white grower and I received from the board $8.40 for one ton of potatoes when they were selling in Vancouver for $45 per ton wholesale.

The potato board should be thrown out. What right has anyone to dictate to the farmer what he has to grow on his land and when and where he can sell it? If he does not pay his taxes, will the board be responsible?

"CLARION CALL" FAILS

To the Editor:—A recent issue of The Times informs us that "My Lord the Bishop of London" is somewhat shocked because he has received fifty letters criticizing his "Clarion Call" toward Christian Soldiers.

It is only quite recently the government's title act compensated the church and its officers for its loss of title ownership to the extent of approximately fifty-two million pounds. In return for tithes, the church, and its headquarter staff holds government stock bearing three per cent interest. Quite an inducement surely to trim the teachings of that out-of-work carpenter Jesus to the needs of war-mongers and militarists.

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR FIGURE

Protect Yourself Against Modern Living That Brings Excess Weight.

Lack of exercise, irregular hours, excessive eating, smoking and drinking are taking their toll these days. Lovely curves soon become beds of fleshy tissue. Here is one way to guard against this. Keep your liver strong and healthy, as it protects you from flabbiness, excess weight, poor blood, lowered vitality. If your liver isn't working properly, your kidneys, skin and "fruit-a-tives", containing extracts of fruit and herbs, help nature to keep the liver strong and active. Thousands have banished the effect of modern living, and safeguard their figure. It also keeps headaches away and tones up the nerves. Start "Fruit-a-tives" to-day, 25c and 50c at all drug stores.

Soap and Water

two of nature's best aids to clear, smooth skin.

MANY SKIN authorities urge thorough soap and water cleansing, with properly selected soap, at least once a day, if you want real skin beauty. Resinol Soap is widely used, as it has no harsh, irritating qualities—lathers freely—rinses easily—and leaves the pores deeply cleansed and refreshed. Used before applying Resinol Ointment, it helps the soothing medication to more quickly relieve itching and soreness of pimply spots or common skin outbreaks, and to promote healing. All druggists sell Resinol Ointment and Soap. Why not begin this skin care today? Sample of each, with literature, on request to Resinol, Dept. 3, Baltimore, Maryland.

City Hall Briefs

The City Council last night instructed the city clerk to send a supporting letter to transportation companies seeking the early inauguration of ferry services to Victoria this year. The action was taken at the request of the Victoria, and Island Publicity Bureau.

Communications from the Victoria and District Unemployed Association, suggesting their organization take over relief administration, and from the Victoria and District Industrial and Employment Conference regarding relief work and municipal maintenance, were received and filed by the City Council last night. A third communication from the latter organization, supporting the request for increased relief allowances, was referred to the relief committee.

Requests for grants from the Children's Aid Society and the chief of police, the former for preventive social work and the latter for the annual revolver shoot, were referred by the City Council last night to its estimates committee.

Victoria delegates to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities Convention this year will carry a resolution seeking that body's support in an appeal to the provincial government for enabling legislation to permit municipalities to set up boxing commissions on statutory lines.

After lengthy discussion the City Council last night approved a grant of $800 to the Central Exchange for its work in the city this year. The finance committee had originally recommended $600 for the organization, Alderman J. D. Hunter, chairman, stated, on the recommendation of Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan who had attended the annual meeting of the exchange. In previous years the city has given $300 plus an additional $300 if adequate contributions were made by other municipalities.

Purchase of iron pipe was authorized by the City Council last night. Contracts for the supplies were awarded as follows: One thousand feet of six-inch and 2,200 feet of eight-inch pipe to A. Sheret Limited for $800 and $2,772, respectively; 1,000 feet of twelve-inch pipe to Evans, Coleman & Johnson Bros. for $2,740, and 300 feet of 1½-inch and 400 feet of two-inch galvanized wrought iron pipe to Crane Limited for $83.30 and $67.38, respectively. The majority of the pipe was required for replacements, G. M. Irwin, city engineer explained.

Reservation of property adjacent to the Worsted Mills building for six months for sale or lease to the Gyro Club as a site for an ice arena received City Council support on the recommendation of the lands committee last night. Terms of sale or lease would be drawn up if the service club secured finances for the project, the council decided. Two demolitions of dilapidated structures also gained council approval on the same committee's recommendation.

D. B. Ryles was appointed cemetery assistant for Ross Bay Cemetery for a three months' probationary period by the City Council last night.

Permission was granted the Neon Products of Western Canada Limited to erect a Neon marquee in front of the Northwestern Creamery Limited premises at 1015 Yates Street.

A letter from H. H. Smith in which he suggested sand that might be dredged from the harbor be used to fill in before the Dallas Road seawall for extra protection and beach improvement in the latter location was referred by the City Council last night to its engineer and public works executive.

NO CHANGE IN BANKING

Vancouver, March 31 (Canadian Press).—A proposal by Alderman H. D. Wilson to approach the Royal Bank of Canada with regard to taking over all or part of the city's banking business, was given a two-weeks' hold by the city council yesterday. Mayor George O. Miller and the civic finance chairman, Alderman J. W. Cornett, both protested that action along the line suggested by Alderman Wilson would be embarrassing to them in their civic financial endeavors.

'Y' Household Class Give Luncheon

Girls in Training Show Their Prowess

Victoria West School was the scene of an interesting little gathering today when the girls who have been taking the household training course arranged by the Y.W.C.A. in conjunction with the Department of Education, entertained at a luncheon. Their guests were the members of the training course committee of the Y.W.C.A. and the hostesses who have opened their homes to enable the girls to put their theoretical training into practice.

The delicious luncheon was served and cooked entirely by the girls and was designed to give them practice in the art of cooking and serving a meal. Mrs. Alton Peebles acted as hostess and at the close of the repast congratulated the class upon the excellence of their work. The other guests also expressing their admiration and enjoyment of the tasty, well-served meal.

The household training class will hold its closing exercises at the Y.W.C.A. on Thursday, April 15, when the successful students will be presented with diplomas. Of the seven teen girls in the class, a number have already been spoken for, and the "Y" hope that all will have secured positions by, or shortly after the end of the course.

McCLINTOCK—REID

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Reid of Santa Monica, California (formerly of Victoria and Winnipeg), announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Doris Edmond, to Leopold D. McClinton of Vancouver, B.C., son of Mrs. McClinton and the late Mr. E. S. V. McClinton of Victoria.

The marriage took place quietly at 2:30 o'clock on Easter Monday at St. Aidan's Church, Mount Tolmie. Rev. J. Hood performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives only.

Following a honeymoon spent in the States, they will reside at the Hastings Manor Apartments, Kitsilano, Vancouver.

SOMERTON—CREIGHTON

Vancouver, March 31.—Royal amethyst and St. James rose colorings were reflected in the velvet suit and moire taffeta frocks worn by Miss Winnifred Margaret (Betty) Creighton and her two bridal attendants when she was married to Mr. Thomas W. Somerton Easter Monday evening.

Easter lilies graced the altar and golden daffodils were clustered against a leafy green background at the chancel rail and in the windows of St. Mark's Church, where Rev. W. J. Minto Swan performed the ceremony.

Miss Creighton is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Dundas Creighton and niece of His Worship Mayor G. W. Miller, while Mr. Somerton is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. William Somerton, formerly of Victoria. Miss Juanita Miller and Miss Jean Wilbeck attend the bride, and Mr. Gordon Bell of Victoria, cousin of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. E. T. Rand, Mr. Jack Rand, Mr. Jack Creighton, Mr. George Miller Jr. and Mr. Harvey Stone were ushers.

The bride's suit featured a knee-length skirt swinging from a yoke at the back and fastening from the hemline to the grey squirrel collar with self-covered buttons and loops. Her blouse was of white lace in a delicate floral pattern draped softly at the cowl neckline. With her ensemble she wore a double string of crystals, a gift of the groom. Her hat was a Mary Queen of Scots model in amethyst taffeta caught with a bow of velvet at the back and finished with a short grey veil.

Rapture reigned in her bouquet blended in tone with the St. James' rose frocks of her two bridesmaids. Ruching outlined the bottom of the skirts which whisked into fullness at the back, and also the high necklines, fronts, and peplums of their short jackets with fitted waistlines. The sleeves were puffed at the shoulder and tapered into tightly-fitting cuffs edged with the ruching. Their hats of taffeta and net were off-the-face models and amethyst shaded flowers formed their bouquets.

Mr. Creighton gave his daughter in marriage, and during the signing of the register Miss Hilda Bone sang "Psalm of Love."

Following the reception in the York Room of the Hotel Georgia, the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to the south, to return later to Queen's where they will reside until the summer. Among the out-of-town guests were Capt. and Mrs. William Bell, Victoria.

Woman Greeted On City Council

Canadian Press

Vancouver, March 31.—The Vancouver City Council sat as usual yesterday, but not with the usual masculine informality because for the first time in history they had a woman in their midst.

Helen Rose Gutteridge, elected at the recent by-election, was sworn in by Mayor George C. Miller and then retired behind a huge bouquet of flowers which adorned her desk.

Alderman Fred Crone tendered congratulations and expressed the hope Alderman Gutteridge would find the aldermanic deliberations to her liking.

The council's only woman member replied she felt sure that when she and her colleagues disagree, they will do it with amity.

Woman Left Immense Fortune

£1,004,366 Willed
By Lonely
English Spinster

London (Special Correspondence).—A woman whose name never appeared in reference books, who shunned public appearances and who lived alone has this week been proved to be one of the world's wealthiest women.

She was Miss Annie Lucy Watson, aged seventy-four. She died in December, and her will now published shows that she left £1,004,366.

Plump, bespectacled and good-natured, Miss Watson had never been regarded as a particularly wealthy woman except by her business associates. She was a permanent director of a firm of carriers, Messrs. Sutton & Co.

When her father died, some twenty years ago, she took his place in the firm. From that time it was one of her greatest interests. She attended every meeting of the board. She founded a pension scheme for its employees, and she enabled them to work on a profit-sharing basis.

Some years ago she helped achieve the building of the Thomas Watson Cottage Homes at Barnet, near London, in memory of her father. Now, in her will, she has remembered the old inhabitants, for she has left £4,000 to be kept as a special fund for their entertainment.

Another £10,000 is left to her trustees "for the benefit of foremen, clerks, porters, chauffeurs, carmen and van boys" employed by her firm. And in addition, she has left a special fund of £5,000 for the Manchester employees and a number of bequests to the company's directors.

WOMEN AS AIR-RAID GUARDS

Women's part should war ever break out again is being all too clearly defined.

Under the government's newly-announced scheme of "Air-raid Wardeness," women are to be "recruited" for service on the same basis as men.

A total of 300,000 "level-headed" men and women, it is stated, will be needed in the force, which is to organize the safety of all men, women and children if there should be an air-raid.

Every applicant must be over thirty years old, it is stipulated. Service will be unpaid, but training will be provided free by the government.

In London alone 70,000 to 80,000 these a considerable proportion will be women.

Hospital training and knowledge of St. John ambulance work are possessed by many women who have left nursing careers on marriage. It is this dormant "reserve" the government now hopes to awake.

According to present plans there will be one warden's post—with relief so that a twenty-four hour watch could be maintained if necessary—for every 20 inhabitants in residential areas.

Versatility Wins Acclaim

Catherine Craig Pleases Big Audience

By G. J. D.

As was said here some time ago of Catherine Craig, who gave another of her versatile recitals at the Shrine Auditorium yesterday evening, she is an extremely clever young artist, and uses her exceptional talents with good judgment, style and intelligence. She goes about her work unconstrained, with everything well devised to exhibit many facets of her artistry, which she can command with ease and in most enjoyable fashion. And again yesterday, after each of her groups, she was enthusiastically recalled to the platform, in each case the recitalist giving augmented numbers.

THE PROGRAMME

In the triadic programme she prepared and arranged so well for the occasion—again wisely refraining from the inclusion of the big things—there were a group of five songs, in which she had the efficient support of her accompanist, Kathleen Irvine, Sullivan's "Where the Bee Sucks," Cole-ridge-Taylor's "The Willow Song," C. E. Horn's "I've Been Roaming," Henschel's "Spring," and "Summer's Heart," with a nice sense of melody, by Aileen Parker of the Dominion Academy of Music; a further group in which she played her own accompaniment, "Sylvia" (Oley Speaks), "The Robin's Song" (Alan Murray), "Vespers" (Fraser Simpson), and "Cradle Song" by Stanley Shale, the principal of the Academy.

A group of five piano-forte numbers: "Romance" (La Forge), "Columbine" (Frank Bridge), "Mood Phase" (Stanley Shale), "Scherzo" (Mendelssohn), and Schumann's "Scherzo," concluded with four elocution numbers: the Letter Scene, Act I and Murder Scene, Act II, of Shakespeare's "Macbeth"; Christina Rossetti's "Jessie Cameron" and two monologues, J. J. Bell's "The New Hat" and "Keeping a Seat at a Benefit Concert," by May Fisk. These were splendidly enunciated, each receiving well-studied inflection, combined with considerable dramatic ability, tragic, contemplative and amusing where occasion called.

It is considered, however, particularly where she shows a greater advance, that her pianism predominates her three distinguishing diversities, especially exemplified in the Shale "Mood Phase" and in the precision and accuracy of the Mendelssohn "Scherzo." But it is not all down here that Miss Craig should write "talentando" to her good singing and elocutionary arts; far from it, indeed.

New York Praise For The Luenings

Of the versatile Luenings who are to appear April 7 in the Empress Hotel ballroom under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Art Society and the Empress Hotel management, Henriette Weber writes in The New York Evening Journal of their town hall programme last week:

"It would take but a glance at the programme of Ethel and Otto Luening which they gave last night to know that here you are dealing with two real people—musicians with a true musical background, not a mere specialized smattering of one instrument or of the vocal art.

"Mrs. Luening has a clear soprano voice, light and flexible, to which she applies a technique that is practically flawless. Mr. Luening plays the flute as his chosen instrument, but we know him also as a composer and a musician of many fine qualities.

"The programme was all done so well and proved such an entertaining and convincing argument in favor of our modern musical thought that the Luenings deserve a salvo for their taste and progressiveness as well as for their performance."

St. Mark's A.Y.P.A.—A parish social will be held in St. Mark's Hall this evening. St. Mark's A.Y.P.A. will hold a concert in the parish hall on Friday at 8.30 o'clock. The feature attraction of the evening will be Bill Harkness, magician. There will be no branch meeting on April 7, but all members are invited to attend the dance following the women's auxiliary sale on that date.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

A more bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a catalyst but have no catalyst or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. See

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

A more bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a catalyst but have no catalyst or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. See

Study Kipling Autobiography

Members of Local Society Hear Extracts From Work

Kipling's autobiography, "Something of Myself," recently posthumously published, was discussed at length by members of the Victoria branch of the Kipling Society at their monthly meeting last night.

The discussion, which followed the reading by P. R. Leighton of extracts from the book, resulted in much the same conclusions as the London reviews of the work at the time of its publication. The general feeling of the meeting was that it was a pity there was not more of the book, and that it was of special interest to those who were already familiar with Kipling's other writings, because it was more a commentary on his books than on his life.

"The Children of the Zodiac," one of the most powerful of Kipling's short stories, was read by Mrs. B. S. MacLachlin and discussed by the members. The story is a symbolic one, open to several interpretations. A. E. G. Cornwell, founder and president of the local society, was in the chair.

Gordon Head P.T.A.—At a recent meeting of the Gordon Head P.T.A. executive it was decided to hold a moving picture show in aid of its funds at the Gordon Head Hall on Thursday, April 1. ## Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

IMPROPER DIET, LACK OF SUNSHINE IN WINTER MONTHS

Rickets is a more prevalent ailment of the colder seasons, because of the natural death of sunshine. But both diet and lack of sunshine may have an effect upon the production of good strong bones and sound teeth, and bowed legs are just one indication of the possibility that some rickets is present.

The small baby, it must be remembered, has legs which at first fall into the position in which they remained so long before birth. They curve in with the soles of the feet touching. This position often causes young mothers to bewail their children's bowed legs! Mrs. W. was not self-conscious about this until she saw her baby through the eyes of its critical grandmother. "Now I am worried because her legs are bowed," she writes. "She is six months old and has had orange juice, cod liver oil and cereal and vegetables, beginning the third month. Now my mother-in-law says her legs are bowed and that I should get braces for them. I don't want to do this, and I want to know if it is natural for them to be bowed and if they will straighten out."

"My mother-in-law also thinks baby has not enough color. She has very little, but she is outdoors an hour or two a day and is good and sleeps fine. Everything was going so well until she told me these things, and now I worry and wonder if she is right."

There is one excellent way to subdue these unasked-for criticisms and that is to have the baby's condition checked by a good pediatrician. The chances are very great that with the right diet and cod liver oil (which makes up in the winter for the deficiency of sunlight) that these are not bowlegs at all. If they were, braces are not in order, but an improved diet and some vitamin D product which will supply the necessary stimulus to good bony production.

As many healthy children lack color in the cheeks, this is of no moment whatever. I shall be happy to send you leaflets on "Feeding from Two to Nine Months" and on "Rickets" if you will send me the necessary self-addressed and three-cent stamped envelope for them.

St. Paul's W.M.S.—The auxiliary to the W.M.S. of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met in the lecture hall of the church recently, the president, Mrs. Dickson, in the chair. ## COUNCIL BACKS BUREAU GROUP

Aldermen Answer Mayor McGavin's Remarks on Publicity Bureau's Value

Without a dissenting voice, aldermanic members of the City Council last night approved a grant of $5,000 to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau after Alderman W. T. Straith had contradicted a statement by Mayor Andrew McGavin that the influx of tourists would not increase until ferry rates were lower, and after Alderman R. A. C. Dewar had championed the bureau for its work in attempting to secure reduced fares.

Payment of $5,000 on account of any grant that might be made to the bureau was recommended by the finance committee through Alderman J. D. Hunter, chairman.

Alderman James Adam suggested the bureau should be told without delay how much it could expect from the council this year in order that it might budget its money accordingly. As long as ferry rates remained high the city would not attract tourists. It would not matter whether the bureau received $5,000 or $50,000 from the city, Mayor McGavin stated. He called for a vote on the grant, which carried without dissent.

"You're all publicity minded," the mayor remarked.

Alderman Straith remarked figures disproved the mayor's contention regarding increased tourist travel here. Last year, despite ferry rates, the number of visitors had been 55 per cent higher than in the preceding year.

The bureau had done its utmost to secure low ferry rates, Alderman Dewar stated. It had been instrumental in establishing the first ferry on the Anacortes run and had continually worked to secure lower rates. He admitted high charges kept a large number of visitors away, but stated that could not be laid to the bureau's door.

Return School Budget Again

Council Again Asks Board to Cut Estimates to Straight $400,000

The City Council last night reaffirmed its stand for a school budget of $400,000 this year. The action, which aimed to secure a reduction of another $8,137 from the present draft of the educational estimates, was taken after Alderman W. T. Straith had warned the council against the possibilities of costly economies which might necessitate an extraordinarily large outlay in future to repair buildings neglected at the present time.

The amendment to an amendment referring the school budget back to the trustees for further pruning, along with an expression of appreciation for the cuts they had already made, was introduced by Alderman Archie Willis and carried on a six-to-five division, with Mayor Andrew McGavin casting the deciding vote. With the proposer and the mayor on the issue were Aldermen John A. Worthington, W. Lloyd Morgan, Ed. Williams and T. W. Hawkins. In the negative were Aldermen Straith, S. H. Okell, R. A. C. Dewar, J. D. Hunter and James Adam.

STILL PROTECTED

A letter from the board outlining economies that had been effected and asking the council for protection in case the latest edition of the estimates was overspent, was read. Alderman Straith moved to refer it to the estimates committee, noting the city was still protected if it wished to call for an arbitration board.

Mayor McGavin stated each time the estimates had been sent back to the board they had been reduced. He cited the building and grounds were in budgets from 1930 to 1936, noting they had swung from $25,000 to $21,500.

"There must be some finish to repairs to gutters and down-pipes," the mayor said. He thought the board should be able to cut that appropriation by another $7,500. For his part, he said, he would insist on a budget of $400,000 for schools this year.

NOT UNANIMOUS

Alderman Morgan stated he understood the estimates had not been unanimously approved by the school board. He suggested they might be returned to allow those trustees who thought the budget could be still further shaved to have an opportunity to effect further economies.

Alderman Worthington was not satisfied with the rider attached to the board's letter, to the effect that the council should be responsible for a deficit if the school budget was overspent. He supported Alderman Morgan, saying a trustee had told him of further cuts that could be made.

Alderman Williams questioned the council's ability to guarantee payment of an over-expenditure.

Alderman Hawkins brought in an amendment to send the estimates back to the trustees for further consideration.

COSTLY ECONOMIES

Alderman Straith spoke of the dangers of too rigid economies. The Fortin plan proposed to relieve the city of debt sinking fund charges for the next three years when a levy equivalent to 3½ mills would have to be raised to meet that charge. If the schools were neglected at present, repairs which might grow more costly through neglect, would impose a heavy burden on the ratepayers when the additional load of sinking fund charges had to be met, he said.

"If we are over-exercised by economy now, we may leave the city in a very bad way in another three years," he said.

Economies now would not hurt the city in three years, Mayor McGavin said.

If painting were eliminated now, it might prove very costly Alderman Straith replied.

Alderman Okell suggested the city should give a very definite lead to the board in its own budget, by following the fire wardens in instituting lower estimates.

As the debate continued Alderman Willis brought in his amendment to the amendment referring the estimates back to the board to cut to $400,000.

CITY RESPONSIBILITY

H. S. Pringle, in reply to Alderman Williams, stated the council would be responsible for school money to the extent of the difference between 100 per cent of the school levy and the actual collections on the school rate.

Alderman Dewar supported Alderman Straith's contention.

"You can only go so far with economy and then it becomes wasteful neglect. There will come a time when we will have to spend a great deal," he said.

Alderman Williams seconded the Willis amendment and it carried on the divided vote.

Alderman Willis raised the question over police estimates and wanted to know if similar economies would be practical there. Mayor McGavin, chairman of the police commission, said they were $105,000, about $91 above last year. Alderman Williams suggested the $5,000 was included to permit parking down.

"We'll see. We may have to call some of the aldermen in to help us," the mayor replied.

Letters To The Editor

DAY OF RECKONING WILL COME FOR ITALIANS

To the Editor:—One is hardly given time to express his surprise or horror at the one thing when another startling event crowds the preceding one out.

So is the recent wholesale "execution" in Ethiopia already forgotten by most of us? A butchery, legalized because of some Ethiopians throwing a bomb at a man who, had he remained in the country where he belongs would not have been hit!

We have heard how that in days gone by, magnanimous victors treated the leading men among their prisoners of war with the honors due to their rank. Not so was unfortunate Ras Dasta Demtu treated by his captors! Tracked down like a wild animal, he was dragged, without even the most summary legal procedures, before a firing squad and shot down like a dog! And all that because he loved and defended his native soil!

A modern people that boasts of an "eternal" city has stooped down to the "infernal" methods of ancient-history days when no mercy was shown but a ruthless "woe to the conquered" was the only verdict pronounced and acted upon!

This "no quarter" spirit seems inherent to those people that have lost their political equilibrium such as the Fascists, the Nazis and the Communists! They are all tarred with the same brush: there is nothing to choose between them!

When a nation deliberately ousts God from its midst as in Russia, or reverts from reformed Christianity to paganism as in Germany, or uses religion as a cloak to perpetrate the crime of the century as Italy in Ethiopia, then we can expect in the light of God's infallible word, that God's well-earned 2,000 years of silence is at the point of being broken; when man's defiance, apostasy and hypocrisy, man's defiance, apostasy and hypocrisy, shall receive their due reward!

"Vengeance is mine, says the Lord, I will repay!" A day of reckoning is surely coming: "the mills of God grind slowly, but they grind exceedingly small!"

L. J. ECKMAN.

40 Wellington Avenue.

MR. DAY TO AID. STRAITH

To the Editor:—Later I may take advantage of Alderman Straith's suggestion, that I hire a hall, but in the meantime I intend to avail myself of one of my privileges as a taxpayer—criticism of the council—when I feel it is due, and also to call attention to the mistakes of the past so that they may not be repeated.

I simply called attention to a statement by Alderman Straith, stating that he would not stand for any outsider being appointed as arbitrator—dealing with the school board.

It would appear to me that to appoint an alderman as one arbitrator, another a school trustee, and then a chairman, who would either be a school trustee or alderman, would be a one-sided mixup.

Surely, he must know that this was never intended in drawing up the act. This act must have intended outsiders who are free, with a mind of their own, determined to give a fair and just report.

Had there been more critics of the actions of the past councils, Victoria would not have been in the unenviable position it is today—one of bankruptcy, or a millstone hanging around our sons' and daughters' necks in the future, simply because the past aldermen persisted in their wish to take away our franchise every time they wished to rush some mad scheme necessitating the borrowing of money at high interest they appealed to the government and got away with it, as so often seen in the by-laws, "without the consent of the taxpayer."

Had it not been for the "outsiders," including the writer, fighting against that octopus, the purchase of land and building of an airport would have been put over. When they were allowed to use their franchise, a ten to one decision was given against it, not because we believed an airport should not be built, but feeling that this was beyond the duty of the taxpayer to foot the bill. No doubt Alderman Straith well remembers this?

Alderman Worthington took the right stand and his remark was well timed. He said: "Give the taxpayer a break!"

That is all I am trying to do—give us a chance to get our breath back. We are being "choked" out by some mad scheme; through reverted property, and added taxation. It is time some "interfering" taxpayer steps in, even at the risk of giving offence to an alderman.

Celebration For Great Evangelist

Half a dozen prominent speakers from the United States and England will visit Victoria during the week of October 10-15, in connection with the D. L. Moody Centennial Celebration, it was announced by a local committee of ministers following a meeting with Rev. Chauncey B. Nordland, representative of Moody Bible Institute.

The team of speakers will visit western Canada and coast cities in the United States during the fall, under the auspices of the Moody Bible Institute, which is taking the lead in the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the birth of the great evangelist. An executive committee headed by Rev. Dr. A. S. Imrie will be in charge of arrangements for the local meetings, which will be of interest to all.

Successful, well-attended meetings have already been held in Toronto, Hamilton, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Maryland and other cities in the eastern States and Canada. Much interest is manifested in the coming of these Christian leaders to Victoria.

PROGRESS WITH JUBILEE PLANS

Considerable success in collecting funds for Victoria's seventy-fifth anniversary celebrations was reported by Alderman T. W. Hawkins at last night's City Council meeting.

His statement was made in reply to question by Alderman John Worthington.

Alderman Hawkins stated a proposed programme of events had been drawn up for the festivities and copies were available for the aldermen.

"As far as the money is concerned, I don't know what the other aldermen have done, but I've been working pretty hard and have had pretty fair success," the chairman of the committee stated.

He outlined illuminations that were still to be erected and stated the flood lights to be set up in the Athletic Park would be constructed in such a manner that they could be moved to Macdonald Park for the military tattoo and other features.

As far as possible, celebration events would be made free of charge, he said.

CENTENNIAL Y.P.S.

The Centennial Young People's Society held their weekly meeting in the church parlor on Tuesday evening. The devotional period was arranged by Kay Gillis and assisted by Betty Corless and Bill Deaville. The theme for the meeting was the work of missionaries. Four short talks were given by Rhoda Cargill, Kay Gillis, Jim McCague and Grant McIntyre. The meeting was brought to a close by Rev. Dr. A. D. Reid giving the benediction. Bill Deaville led the group in a short period of games.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

STRANGE how certain Vancouver sports writers pay occasional visits to Victoria and secure a very slanted prospectus. The latest scribe to leap off the deep end is Stu Kease, verdant golf critic for The Province. This youngster was in Victoria for the recent annual mid-winter tournament at Oak Bay and following his return home blossomed forth in his column with the asinine statement that golf "seems to be dying a natural death in the Island Capital. Kenny Lawson, the former Willingdon Cupper, has quit the game, and there were only sixteen entries in their city championship last year. Even good old Brynjolfsson was nowhere to be seen at the mid-winter tourney."

It is unfortunate that Mr. Kease did not get together with Lawson and play eighteen holes with him at Colwood. He would have found out just how much Ken has quit the game. This slender youngster can still stay up with the best in this province. His Brynjolfsson's game has not yet slipped to the point where we would rate him out of first class competition. And don't forget Bob Morrison when rating this city's amateurs. Bob may not be quite as keen as he was a few years ago, and not playing as often, but he can still make the best of them step to beat him. Golf in this city is not dying a natural death as their Mr. Kease would have his readers believe. Maybe he would arrange a match between Victoria and Vancouver amateurs on a neutral course and see what happens. The local club welders would carry our cash.

However, Kease has missed the main point and the reason, possibly why he gained the impression the same was fading away here. All Victoria's first class amateurs are now employed in steady positions and golf has become a secondary matter. When boys like Morrison, Brynjolfsson and Lawson were playing around the Uplands club every day of their lives, were thinking, eating and sleeping golf, naturally they were in all competitions and continually occupied the spotlight. Those days are gone and the boys have settled down to business careers. Naturally their time spent on the links has been cut down considerably, but don't let anyone kid you that they are through as top notchers.

When the series ends in Calgary and the Allan Cup finalists leave the ice, maybe the altitude will be used by the losers as an alibi—but, according to Lloyd Turner, manager of Calgary's Victoria Park Arena, that's all it will be. Just an alibi.

This year's finals of the Allan Cup, the trophy that goes to Canada's senior amateur hockey champions, will be played on the only artificial ice rink between Winnipeg and Nelson, B.C., high in the Rocky Mountain foothills. It will mark the first time a Dominion ice title has been settled at any spot between the Manitoba capital and Vancouver, and the first time such an event has been staged so high above sea level.

Engineers have computed the altitude at the arena is about 3,424 feet.

"In a single game or short series the change in atmosphere used to give local players an advantage over visitors," Turner says. "But in a five-game series such as the Allan Cup, it is not likely to matter much."

"You see, the change has no effect on players coming here for the first day or two. It affects them for the next four or five days and after that they don't even notice it. We expect the eastern finalists to be on the scene about a week ahead of the first game and the western team, we expect, will remain over from their semi-final series, which will also be held here."

But some residents of Calgary, newcomers to the district in the last year or two, discounted Turner's statements. They complained of habitual nose-bleeds and said they could blame them on nothing but the altitude.

Frenchmen Continue Brilliant Comeback To Take Fourth Tilt 3 to 1

Red Wings Miss Regular Goalie

Montreal, March 31.—The underdog of yesterday became the favorite of today as the surprising Montreal Canadiens had an edge in the betting for the first time in their combined National Hockey League championship-Stanley Cup semi-final playoff against Detroit Red Wings.

Canadiens scored their second straight 3 to 1 victory over Wings last night to even the series at two games each and pave the way for the possible making of hockey history Thursday night.

Then, if the Flying Frenchmen win again, they will be the first team to win the National League championship after dropping the first two games. They lost twice at Detroit, 4 to 0 and 5 to 1.

Norm Smith, the Vezina Trophy goaltender who suffered an arm injury Saturday night, definitely was out of the fifth game.

The world champion Wings missed puggy Norm last night. Not because his substitute, Earl Robertson of the minor-league Pittsburgh Hornets, played badly, but because Canadian Wilf Cude was brilliant.

TWO GOAL LEAD

Canadiens scored two goals past Robertson in the first thirteen minutes. By the Blake and Paul Haynes, and got a third from Joffe Desilets late in the second period after Syd Howe had cut the early margin in half with a solo effort.

They never were threatened seriously in the final twenty minutes. The forwards checked ceaselessly. The defensemen, especially the great Babe Siebert and Walter Buswell, were rock-like, and Cude was in great form.

Cude, perhaps, saved the game in the second period. Once Johnny Sorrell smashed at him from close up, another time Pete Kelly had him cold from ten-foot range. But both times the tousle-haired Welshman managed either to stop or deflect the puck.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Canadiens, Blake (Siebert, Lepine), 7:30; 2, Canadiens, Haynes (Gagnon), 12:28; 3, Detroit, Howe, 17:00.

Second period—4, Canadiens, Desilets (Siebert, Haynes), 18:28. Penalties—Gallagher, Manitoba.

Third period—No scoring.

Amateur Pucksters Are In Spotlight

Interest in Canadian Senior and Junior Playdowns at Fever Pitch This Season; Quebec and Hull Decide Their Playoff Tonight

over the fervor of its recent junior title series. Tomorrow night the winners, Winnipeg Monarchs, will entertain Saskatoon Wesleys in the first game of the western finals. Monarchs won the Dominion title two years ago. Wesleys are Saskatchewan champions for the fifth straight year.

Dominion hockey fans have become more conscious of the amateurs this spring than at any time in recent years. Professional playoffs have occupied most of the stage in other seasons but this time the simon-pures are stealing a few scenes.

It started months ago when senior finals were awarded Calgary. That opened controversy regarding the effect the rarefied air of the foothills would have on the eastern seekers of the Allan Cup. The prairies are without a professional league and Montreal is the only eastern city represented in the money playoffs now, so the choruses in the amateur festival have gained volume.

Members of Quebec Aces and Hull Volants—and team managers—have been too busy to worry about whether the Calgary atmosphere would be a handicap. Today it seemed certain they decide the round at Montreal tonight before a big crowd, the winner meeting Sudbury for the right to go west.

A Quebec goal that won the second game was disputed and the contest was thrown out and replayed. Aces coming through again to tie the series. The Quebec management threatened legal steps to prevent the final game being played at Montreal but the argument over the local cooled off at an Ottawa meeting last night.

BEAVERS KEPT WAITING

The west is disappointed because its champions, North Battleford Beavers, will have to wait a while for the eastern winners. There is no chance of finals will start April 6 as scheduled. Beavers will stick around Calgary where they won the western laurels.

WALLACE TO HAVE EDGE

Vancouver Scrapper Defends Title Friday Night Against Luftsprung

Canadian Press
Toronto, March 31.—When Gordon Wallace slips inside the ropes Friday night he'll carry thirteen years' experience with the gloves to pit against the Calgary atmosphere would be a handicap. Today it seemed certain they decide the round at Montreal tonight before a big crowd, the winner meeting Sudbury for the right to go west.

Wallace's lengthy ring career brought him the Canadian welter crown which Luftsprung with only nine pro bouts behind him will attempt to knock askew or off completely. Wallace, who came down from his Vancouver home several weeks ago to train in the eastern climate, is twenty-six years of age, his opponent only twenty-one.

Luftsprung carries danger in both hands. He has either knocked out or badly used up his opponents in his nine pro battles, and his impressive showings have him into the ring practically at even money with the champ.

IS VETERAN

But Wallace is a canny veteran who started his mitt career when thirteen years of age, fighting at smokers. For eleven years he has been in the money class and has met such battlers as Barney Ross, world welter king, who could do no better than a close decision over the Vancouver fighter.

Both fighters were tapering off today, ready for the bout promoter Playfair Brown, predicts will bring back the old fight days in Toronto when the lightweights, bantams and flyweights drew throngs. His expects 12,000 to pay their way into Maple Leaf Gardens for the championship go.

OUR MAIL BAG

EXTENDS THANKS

To the Sports Editor—I was in Victoria last week-end with the Sparling Boys, who were playing the Sons of Canada for the intermediate A coast title.

I am not in the habit of writing letters about such sporting affairs, but I was so impressed with several features of the game, that I thought I would like to tell them that I appreciate some parts on the back, instead of the usual commendation that officials in sport are apt to receive.

First, one would have to go a long way to meet such a sporting bunch of boys as the Sons of Canada proved themselves. They took one of the toughest losses a team had to take this season, and in their conduct, both off and on the floor, they deserve only the highest praise. Will you please convey to them my appreciation of their sportsmanship? And also I would like to tell them that I believe they have one of the nicest teams in B.C., and I sincerely hope they stay together.

Secondly, I would like you to convey my thanks to the scorekeeper and timer of the game. They were very obliging and most exacting in their work. It was a pleasure to work with them. Also the refereeing was above reproach.

In closing, I would like to say that I have traveled many hundreds of miles with basketball teams in the last four years, but I have never left any town with a nicer taste in my mouth. I hope to again have the opportunity of visiting Victoria with a team next year.

Local Swimmers Win Five Titles

Victoria Splashers Make Good Showing in B.C. Championship Gala at Vancouver; Three Mainland Stars Shatter Canadian Marks

Canadian Press

Vancouver, March 31.—Canadian swimmers had three new speed-marks to shoot at today, after Vancouver swimmers ran up record times last night in senior women's fifty-yard freestyle, senior women's 200-yard backstroke, and junior boys' 100-yard breaststroke events.

The records were set at the British Columbia swimming championship gala here, when Coach Percy Norman's Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club stars took major honors. Victoria swimmers scored five championship wins.

Mary Baggaley, V.A.S.C., seventeen-year-old swimmer, clipped 1-5 of a second from the Canadian fifty-yard freestyle record, previously held by Mary McConkey, Edmonton, when she touched the finish mark in 28 2-5 seconds.

Noel Oxenbury of Crystal Aquatic Club, Vancouver, cut 3 3-5 seconds from the 200-yard backstroke record held by Mary Moffatt of V.A.S.C., finishing the course in 2:44 2-5. The third mark was smashed when Jack Pomfret, another Coach Norman product, finished the 100-yard breaststroke race 4-5 of a second under his own previous record of 1:35 3-5 seconds.

VICTORIA TRIUMPHS

Ivor Fuller, Victoria Y.M.C.A., won the final heat in senior men's fifty-yard freestyle in 26 2-5 seconds, beating Bruce Miller of V.A.S.C. and Archie Byers, University of British Columbia. Barbara Unsworth, Victoria Y.M.C.A., took the juvenile girls fifty-yard backstroke from Barbara Evans and Audrey Aetzel, both V.A.S.C., who finished second and third.

Another provincial championship fell to Victoria when Gordon Lawrence of the island centre's Y.M.C.A. won from Vancouver's Arthur Morris and George Athans in the final of the junior boys' 100-yard backstroke event.

Victoria Y.M.C.A. relay team took the junior girls 200-yard relay from V.A.S.C., while in the senior men's 150-yards medley relay, Victoria lost to the Vancouver squad.

Edmonton Girls Turn Back Spencers 43 to 15 in Western Cage Final

Vancouver, March 31.—Edmonton's world champion Grads held a one-game margin over Vancouver Spencers in the best-of-three western Canada girls' basketball finals here today. They overwhelmed the Vancouver team in a last half offensive, to come out on the winning side of a top-heavy 43 to 15 score here last night in the series opener.

Grads displayed more accurate passing, to work within shooting range, and their defensive ability smothered Spencer's plays before they were organized.

Edmonton opened the scoring after a minute of play when Mabel Munton sank a free throw. Spencers went ahead two minutes later, Nellie Sellers sinking a free toss and Verna Briscoe counting a field goal.

Grads soon erased the small margin, and at the quarter-time whistle six field goals and three free shots had brought the score to 15 to 3 in favor of Edmonton. Edna Dunn and Mabel Munton counted two double-point baskets each, while Helen Northrup and Babe Belanger chalked up one apiece. Misses Munton and Belanger divided three free tosses.

Spencers came within four points of tying the score at the half, trailing by a 15 to 11 count, but from that point on they faltered before the relentless Edmonton attack.

Teams and scores follow:

Edmonton—E. Dunn (8), B. Belanger (10), N. MacDonald (7), S. Brown, M. Munton (12), B. Ross, W. Gallen, H. Northrup (6).

Vancouver—V. Briscoe (4), S. Gregson (4), C. McKenna, V. Russell (2), N. Sellers (1), L. Rowand (4), V. Anderson, T. Pough, N. Henderson.

Officials: Joe Foley and Tony McIntyre of Vancouver.

Baseball Gossip

Gulfport, Miss.—Manager Bill Terry still figures Tommy Thevenow will provide reserve defensive strength for the New York Giants' infield in spite of his poor showing in exhibition games. "We haven't been playing on smooth infields and that has 'accounted for some of the misplays,'" Bill points out.

Tampa, Fla.—Although Manager Burtleigh Grimes figures catcher "Blump" Phelps would be better off if he reduced his weight below the current 205 pounds, he is not worried about the Brooklyn receiving department. "It's as good as the last Brooklyn pennant winners had back in 1920," Grimes maintains.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Joe Di Maggio, who came to the New York Yankees last year with a dead pan and no desire to be friendly, is a different ball player this year. Success as a major leaguer and the assurance that comes with it have ripened the pride of little Italy into one of the camp's most sociable players.

Orlando, Fla.—Manager Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators figured his team today a good bet for second place in the American League. He admits the Yankees show championship promise. "It looks as if we're the most improved club in the league," he said.

Santa Monica, Cal.—Johnny Dickshot, Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, thought he hit a home run against Seattle. Just as he swatted the ball, workmen opened a gate in the fence. The ball rolled through and Dickshot trotted around the bases, but he was ordered back to second on a ground rule.

Ontario, Cal.—Linus Frey, obtained by the Chicago Cubs from Brooklyn for infield utility, had a big start today toward stealing the regular third-base job from Stan Hack. The reason—six hits in his last six times at bat.

Lakeland, Fla.—Two star Detroit Tiger rookies, Rudy York and Frankie Croucher, apparently face another season in the minors. It's almost a crime to keep those fellows out of regular jobs," said Mickey Cochrane, "but I don't see how we can get them on our club. On any other club in the majors they'd be stars."

THIEF MISSED MOST OF MONEY

Robber Who Entered Totem Service Station Took $90; Overlooked $231

A thief who stole a cash drawer containing $321 in cash and $152 in cheques from the Totem Service Station, 1220 Newport Avenue, yesterday evening, worked in such a hurry that he only got $90 of the cash. The remainder was safely returned to the owner.
In a daring raid between 8.45 and 9.15 o'clock yesterday evening the thief walked into the service station while Bryan Page, 1175 Hampshire Road, the attendant, was working in the rear of the building.
He lifted the cash drawer from its place and walked out. The drawer contained $321 in cash, which included about $231 which was underneath the cheques.
The thief took only the money in sight and did not disturb the cheques, abandoning the cash drawer in tall grass in a vacant field near the service station.
Chief John Syme and the Oak Bay police conducted a search for the stolen property and the drawer was recovered about 1 o'clock this morning by Constable Robert Smith, where it had been dropped in the grass.
Police are continuing their investigations, working on a fairly full description of the suspected thief.

LESS SUN AND RAIN IN MARCH

But Prairie Visitors Are Thrilled By Bloom and Green Lawns

Rainfall and sunshine were below the average during March, although the mean temperature was above, it was learned this morning from the monthly weather report of W. A. Thorn, superintendent at the Gonzales Hill Observatory.

March came in like a lamb and has been surprisingly lamb-like for thirty days. Oldtimers have been surprised at the almost entire absence of March gales. Only on one or two days was there any wind worth mentioning.

EASTER RECORD
Easter Sunday set a record for sunshine. On that day, when visibility was perfect, Old Sol did his best for Victorians for nearly ten and a half hours. It was the sunniest day of the year.

The mean temperature for the month was 46.1 degrees, which was two degrees above the average. The maximum temperature was 61 on March 4; the minimum was 37 on March 16, and the minimum was 30 on March 25.

Rainfall amounted to 1.34 inches, which was .94 of an inch below average. Sunshine totaled 127 hours, which was twenty-six hours below the average.

For the first quarter of 1937, ending today, total precipitation was 8.89 inches, which was .91 of an inch below average. Total sunshine for the same period was 272 hours, which was forty-seven hours below average.

"APRIL SHOWERS"
Now gardeners may prepare themselves for the "April showers that bring May flowers," for the weather forecast for the next few days is "strong southwest winds, cloudy and cool, with scattered showers."

Gardens have come along wonderfully during March, despite some cold winds and lack of sunshine, and prairie visitors have been enthralled with the wealth of blossoms and spring blooms. In their home-towns they point out, there will be no bloom until about the middle of May. The for on the prairies the lawns are still under snow and slush.

NEW HOSPITAL
BUILDING PLAN

Vancouver, March 31.—The City Council yesterday ordered the civic budget committee to investigate a proposed building expansion plan for the Vancouver General Hospital after hearing that plans for any new buildings could be obtained free from the provincial architect.

The question was brought before the council in a resolution from the hospital board of governors, stressing the lack of accommodation at the hospital and urging action to remedy the situation.

Sloan to Get Hedley Report

G. L. Fraser to Submit Preliminary Findings on Mine Matter This Week

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 31.—G. L. Fraser, commissioner appointed by the British Columbia government to investigate affairs of Hedley Amalgamated Gold Mines Limited, suspended from trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange February 23 last, announced yesterday he would forward a preliminary report on the company's stock transactions to Attorney-General Gordon Sloan by the end of the week.

Mr. Fraser said he was awaiting confirmation of certain buying and selling in the stock done by Victoria brokers before completing the report.

His full report on the mining company's affairs will not be ready until he receives a report from R. H. Stewart, mining engineer who is in charge of investigations at the mine, situated near Hedley, B.C., in the southern interior of the province.

CARAVAN CAMP
IDEA STUDIED

Lands Committee Will Investigate Problem Arising Out of Trailers

The city lands committee last night was asked to study the advisability of establishing an area in Victoria where tourist caravans might stay. The action was taken as the result of a letter sent to the City Council by Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer.

Dr. Felton drew the city body's attention to the need for definite sanitary arrangements for rolling homes that might be drawn here this year.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar asked for an expression of opinion from the council regarding the establishment of auto camps here. He noted that existing camps catered to tourists for a certain length of time and then were turned into regular dwelling centres in competition with apartments.

Alderman James Adam voiced his opposition to such camps. Alderman Stanley Okell suggested a general meeting of aldermen be held with the lands committee on the matter, and Alderman Ed. Williams said he was not prepared to stand against the camps, which, he noted, varied as to character.

Mayor Andrew McGavin stated trailer caravans would come to Victoria.

Alderman Dewar noted that if an area should be set up for them facilities would have to be provided to care for sanitation.

Alderman Archie Willis suggested the Athletic Park as a possible area this summer.

Alderman Okell closed the discussion by advocating a joint meeting of the lands and health committees on the question.

BANK ROBBERS
TAKE $18,000

Associated Press
Portland, Ore., March 30.—Police today were hunting for a gang that held up the Rose City branch of the First National Bank here yesterday and took an amount, officers and U.S. Department of Justice agents estimated unofficially at $18,000.

Three heavily armed men entered the bank shortly after 2:30 yesterday afternoon, held eight employees and five patrons at bay and filled three canvas sacks with currency scooped systematically from the tellers' cages.

The trio made their getaway in a car driven by a confederate, who had remained outside during the holdup. The car was reported stolen from a parking lot Saturday night.

Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, March 31.—India tomorrow will pass another milestone on her long road towards self-government, for April 1, is the appointed day when under the new constitution autonomy will become effective in the eleven provinces of British India.

Henceforth their dyarchical scheme of government will disappear. Under the complicated scheme "reserved subjects" were administered by the Governor, acting with an executive council. "Transferred subjects" were administered by the Governor acting with ministers responsible to the Legislature.

The new constitution makes a complete change. In its own sphere, a province of British India, after the manner of a Canadian province, will have exclusive authority. The ministers will be responsible to the elected Legislature, but the Governor — and this is the issue raised by the Congress Party — has special powers.

MAY BE DISCRETION
The Governor, while required to follow the advice of his ministers on most matters affecting administration, may in certain circumstances use his discretion or exercise his individual judgment. The Governor's special powers include:

Prevention of any grave menace to the peace or tranquility of the province.
Safeguarding legitimate interests of minorities.
Safeguarding legitimate interest of the members of the public service.

Securing peace and good government in partially excluded areas.
Protection of the rights and dignities of its ruler.

The federated India, to include both British India and the native states, will not become effective until arrangements for accession have been concluded with the Indian princes. Negotiations are now under way.

GANDHI IN FIELD
Associated Press
Bombay, India, March 31.—Officials paradoxically placed their hopes today for a bloodless solution of an inchoate Indian crisis on the slight, stooped shoulders of Mahatma Gandhi.

While ready with large forces of police and 58,000 British and Indian troops to attend the birth tomorrow of semi-home rule for eleven provinces, anxious officialdom looked for a sudden turning point in the Congress Party's attempt to torpedo the new Indian constitution.

Great Britain was confronted by the party's refusal to have its members take office or form cabinets in six of the eleven provinces where it holds legislative majorities.

The lines of contention were drawn when Governors of the six Congress Party-controlled states refused to pledge not to use special powers under the new constitution.

Congress Party extremists adopted an "all-or-nothing" attitude. Although Gandhi said he was the author of the party's demands for a free hand in the six provinces, he is moderate by comparison with the Harrow and Cambridge-educated Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, who succeeded him as president of the party.

Nehru emphasized he contested the elections in the eleven provinces only in order to wreck the new constitution.

Army, navy and marine corps have had their day glorifying on the screen. In "Sea Devils" now at the Dominion Theatre, RKO Radio has gone into a new field for its setting—the exciting work of the United States Coast Guard—and has evolved one of the most dramatic and thrilling films of the season.

Victor McLaglen, Preston Foster and Ida Lupino share the stellar honors in this colorful tale of courage at sea and romance ashore.

OAK BAY THEATRE
How a gang girl double-crosses her sweetheart by tipping off police where he can be found, is one of the dramatic highlights in RKO Radio's "Don't Turn 'Em Loose," now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre, with a cast including Lewis Stone, James Gleason, Bruce Cabot, Betty Grable, Louise Latimer and Grace Bradley.

COLUMBIA THEATRE
William Boyd and Jimmy Ellison tangle with a gang of rustlers and take part in an old western fence war in "Heart of the West," "Hopalong Cassidy" picture now at the Columbia Theatre.

PLAZA THEATRE
Robert Taylor appears in "The Gorgeous Hussy," now showing at the Plaza Theatre. He has performed opposite the most glamorous feminine stars of the screen.

LIMITS SHOWN BY PLANE RAIDS
Associated Press
Madrid, March 31.—The theory—often advanced as the dread certainty of the future—that great cities such as Paris or London or New York could be razed and their civil populations slaughtered by the sudden swoop of an enemy air force was considered fantastic today on the basis of military aviation's actual performance in the Spanish civil war.

This opinion was advanced by government pilots who have used the latest air equipment in air battles which were unequalled for the number of planes involved. On the contrary, they assert, almost undefended cities are, in a measure, safe from destruction even from bombing raids by superior fleets of aircraft.

"After Thin Man"
To Open Tomorrow

The honeymoon is over and Myrna Loy has returned to her job on the screen.

As a bachelor-girl, Miss Loy won her greatest successes in four pictures. She married Powell for the fifth time in "Libeled Lady," and a few days before the picture started she became a wife in reality by marrying Arthur Hornblow Jr.

Upon their return Miss Loy and Powell started "After the Thin Man," in which they are married for the sixth time. The picture will open at the Atlas Theatre tomorrow. Larry "Buster" Crabbe is the star of "Desert Gold," which will be the second picture.

Capitol to Show "The Green Light"

Starring Errol Flynn in his first modern role, "The Green Light," adapted from the best selling novel by Lloyd C. Douglas, will open at the Capitol Theatre on Friday.

In a well-directed, at times tense, drama of an operating-room error and its subsequent aftermath concerning the lives of two people, this picture will undoubtedly take its place among the truly great films of 1937.

With a splendid supporting cast, including Anita Louise, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Margaret Lindsay, and many other capable players, this production moves smoothly towards a sensational climax.

One of the outstanding scenes is staged in the Bitter Root Valley of Montana where Errol Flynn as Dr. Page, experiments on his own body in the interest of science in an effort to stamp out a dreaded plague in that section.

The picture on the whole is one that will long be remembered for its touching drama, its wonderful story and its superb portrayals.

Fine Soloists For Concert

Janet Hay, Doreen Wilson and Catherine Denison will be the soloists at the recital Friday and Saturday evenings at the Oak Bay Theatre by The Meistersingers, under the auspices of the Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie Chapter, I.O.D.E.

Doreen Wilson will be heard in the solo parts of "H.M.S. Pinafore" in which she will be assisted by Dudley Wickett, Frank Iving, Fred Wright and members of the chorus. Miss Wilson is bound to be delightful in this part, for she has proved herself a capable and charming singer in other light opera roles.

Janet Hay, soprano, will sing in "Tom Jones" and "The Student Prince," and Catherine Denison, contralto, will be heard in the solo parts from "Flora" and "The musical gem of the gay nineties."

DOMINION THEATRE

A brilliant cast headed by Joan Crawford, William Powell and Robert Montgomery appears at the Capitol Theatre in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" based on the stage play by Frederic Londale.

An exceptional supporting cast includes Frank Morgan, Jessie Ralph, Nigel Bruce, Colleen Clare, Benita Hume, Ralph Forbes, Aileen Pringle and Melville Cooper.

The story, ultra-modern as a stage play, has been advanced to the current minute in dialogue and atmosphere, so that it is more than ever smart and sophisticated.

MAY SET MILL RATE TONIGHT

Esquimalt Council to Hold Further Special Meeting on Estimates

Esquimalt's 1937 mill rate may be struck at a special meeting of the municipal council this evening, Reeve Alexander Lockie said this morning. The meeting will be held in camera. Setting of the rate has been deferred by the council several times in the hope of receiving some word from Ottawa as to whether or not the Dominion Government intends to make any grant to the municipality in compensation for the considerable amount of tax-free federal property in Esquimalt.

The decision as to whether or not the tax figure will be set at this evening's meeting rests with the council, he added.

A report on the municipality's position in regard to exempt government property has already been considered at Ottawa, and council members are still confident that some aid will eventually be forthcoming. Although no provision was made for such a grant in the supplementary estimates, it is hoped the assistance will come through the Department of National Defence.

BUDGET AGAIN STUDIED

Following its regular meeting last night the council went into committee for the third time to consider the municipality's estimates for the year. In the absence of Councillor Thomas Hadfield, chairman of the finance committee, however, little progress was made, and the councillors gave most of their time to the private discussion of individual relief cases.

Last night's regular agenda was exceptionally short. The reeve and H. F. Bourne, municipal engineer, were instructed by the council to investigate a complaint from a resident of Victoria View Road of smoke nuisance from the Imperial Oil Company plant.

The council took notice of a letter from the Provincial Secretary drawing attention to the new Residence and Responsibility Act, becoming effective April 1, and materially changing the responsibilities of the municipality in the matters of relief, health and welfare services.

Two offers for rental of the former Hudson's Bay Company property known as "The Transfer," with a total area of 134 acres, were received. The matter was left to the reeve to discuss with the municipal solicitor.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. If a woman is going to a man's home to visit, should he pay for her railroad ticket?
2. Is it wise to ask directions of a taxi driver when a person is in a strange city?
3. What is the usual amount to tip a red-cap or steward for carrying a bag from a taxi to a train?
4. Should a traveler wipe out the wash bowl in the dressing room of the train after using it?

What would you do if—

You are a woman traveling alone on a train and a man annoys you with his "friendliness."

- (a) Put up with him.
- (b) Tell him what you think of him.
- (c) Answer his questions briefly and appear disinterested.

ANSWERS

1. No.
2. No.
3. From 15c to 25c, depending on whether the bag is heavy and on the distance he carries it, and whether he has to wait.
4. Yes.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(c).

Wives And Business Don't Mix Dorothy Dix

WIVES and business don't mix," said a man to me recently, "and I often wonder if women have any idea of how frequently they are to blame for their husbands' failures. They don't intend it, of course. They are actuated by the best of motives, but when a good, devoted, conscientious wife sticks her finger in her husband's pie he is nearly always headed for bankruptcy."

"To begin with, most women for some inexplicable reason are as jealous of their husbands' occupations as they could be of a platinum-blond stenographer with a string-bean figure. The wife is ambitious for her husband and wants him to succeed. She craves all the money he can make and the fine clothes and cars he can give her, but she wants him to get them in some miraculous way without spending any time working for them, or giving them any thought."

"Listen to women talking and you will hear them speak of their husbands' 'old offices' in bitterly resentful tones. They will say they can't go to Florida in the winter and to the mountains in the summer because they can't tear their Jim or John away from his 'old office.' They will complain that their husbands pretend to be too tired to step out to parties at night, but that they can always go back to their 'old offices' if there is extra work to do. And when their husbands are late getting home from their offices to dinner they are as infuriated as if they had kept a rendezvous with a Lady Love."

"It is bad enough for the business man whose wife feels that his occupation is her deadly rival, but it is worse for the doctor and lawyer whose wives get green-eyed at the thought of their husbands holding the hands of languorous women in pink negligees, or receiving good-looking husbands as much as open a book to study at night. Many a go-getter stacks down, many a promising professional man is ruined because of his wife's jealousy of his career and her persistent and successful effort to alienate him from a love that she imagines is greater than his love for her."

"Then there are the wives who wreck their husbands' fortunes by breaking up partnerships. Two men who supplement each other, who bring different talents and aptitudes and traits of character to an enterprise can work together happily, harmoniously and successfully for years and years so long as they are single. But let them marry and it is a marvel if the end isn't in sight."

"Mrs. A. thinks that her husband should be the head of the firm instead of Mr. B. She is certain that he has far greater ability and that his work is more important. Mrs. B. is disgruntled because her husband has to get down to work earlier than Mr. A. and works all day in a stuffy office while Mr. A. is gadding the streets. You needn't tell her that all those nice long trips Mr. A. takes are for business. She knows better. You don't fool her with any of these talks about Mr. A. being a super-salesman. And so on and so forth."

"Maybe the wives are not deliberately trying to break up the firm, but they do it by poisoning the partners' minds against each other and making each believe that he is being unjustly treated and that the other is putting something over on him. And those who together were successful part and singly are failures."

"And, worst of all, there are women who make failures of their husbands by forever whining and complaining because they can't have all the things that rich women have. They can't see why their husbands don't make as much money as some other man does and they throw Mrs. Smith's mink coat and Mrs. Jones' new car in their teeth until they take the last spark of spirit and courage out of them."

"They don't realize that when they kill a man's belief in himself they turn off the power that keeps him going and makes it possible for him to achieve success. Many a man is a failure because his wife made him believe he was a failure. Look around you and you will see that most of the men who never make good and most of the men who blow their brains out when they come a cropper in business have these dissatisfied, self-pitying wives."

"For, after all, our wives are the motive power that runs us and if they go blooey we stop."

Shining Metal Called "Gold"

Gold has not done nearly so many things to help the human race as iron, but men have worked hard to get it, have fought for it, have died for it.

Iron gave early people a good metal to make tools, and it has been used ever since. Without iron, and its special form known as "steel," we might not have automobiles or railroad trains. If all the world's iron should suddenly "go into nothing," our factories and mills would close or during his day's work. He'd like one the size of a marble, but he'd be most pleased if he found one as large as a hen's egg. A nugget larger than a hen's egg seems too much to hope for, but one nugget—found near Ballarat, southern Australia, in 1858—was ten inches thick and twenty-one inches long. It was called "the Welcome Stranger," and was sold for $52,500. When melted, it supplied 152 pounds of pure gold.

A great deal of the modern mining for gold is done with water shot through a hose against the sides of gold-bearing hills. The jet of water is powerful, and can break up certain kinds of rock, so bits of gold can be taken from them.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1937

Mingled good and evil planetary aspects are described in the horoscope for today, according to astrology. The early morning is a time for persons in authority to exercise their best energies.

Threatening signs are numerous at this time when Uranus continues to impose the price of the world through influences that encourage plots and stratagems.

Financial anxiety and excitement may be expected through this month. In Europe international alignments will affect the stock markets, it is forecast.

Fascist and Communist nations will be criticized for their policies. The United States will be placed in a position that is diplomatically difficult.

More strange sudden and surprising international developments. Many countries will face a shortage of funds required in naval and military programmes.

Today should be satisfactory to persons who direct business and governmental activities. It encourages efficiency among employees.

Women today should cultivate the domestic arts. Repose of manner should be sought in all domestic as well as social relations.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of success, although there may be anxiety regarding friends or relatives. Gain through speculation is probable.

Children born on this day may be endowed with cheerful dispositions as well as active brains. Subjects of this sign usually marry early and attain happiness.

Edwin A. Abbey, painter, was born on this day, 1852. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Otto von Bismarck, Chancellor of the German Empire, 1815; William Mulready, Irish genre painter, 1786; and Edward Asner, actor, 1826.

WAS SKIPPER OF BIG SHIPS

Capt. James Barr, Master of Famous Atlantic Liners,
Dies at Eighty-one

Canadian Press
Wallasey, Cheshire, March 31.—Captain James Clayton Barr, eighty-one, who as commander of many famous Cunard liners participated in several thrilling adventures on the high seas, died here yesterday.

When captain of the Carmania in 1913 he received an urgent call for help from the liner Volturno, off eighty miles distant. He promptly relayed the SOS to vessels in the vicinity and raced to the scene. There he directed ten vessels in rescue work and before the burning Volturno was abandoned 521 of its passengers were saved.

He was commander of the Cunard fleet when he retired twenty years ago and was known as "Safe Barr." In his long career he commanded, in addition to the Carmania, the Catalonia, Lucania, Saxonia, Caronia and the Mauretania when she was new and mistress of the seas.

He was made a Companion of the Bath in 1915.

Waterfront Notes

The Donaldson Line's refrigerator ship Corrientes, Capt. M. McKay Brown, reached the Rithet pier yesterday evening at 9:20 o'clock from the United Kingdom and proceeded to Vancouver at 1 o'clock this morning. She discharged 400 tons of general freight, including 400 steers of bananas from Guayaquil, and loaded 750 cases of locally canned loganberries for the London market. In each case were twenty-four tins—a total of 18,000 tins.

Delay in arrival here from the Orient of the American Mail liner President McKinley was occasioned by a late departure from Yokohama. It was learned here this morning, she was two days late leaving the Japanese port and will not arrive at William Head until 5:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

David Alexander of the local office of the Great Northern Railway and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha has returned to Victoria from Vancouver, where he went Monday aboard the Ms. Helan Maru, the ship on which Prince and Princess Chichibu were passengers. Mr. Alexander was one of a large party that boarded the liner at William Head on her arrival there from Japan.

King Brothers said today the British freighter King William would reach Cowichan Bay tomorrow morning to load a parcel of Vancouver Island lumber.

Mariners are advised in an official notice from Col. A. W. E. Wilby, local agent for the Department of Transport, that the unwatched lights at Cape Scott, west coast of Vancouver Island, and on the outer end of the jetty at the entrance to the North Arm of the Fraser River, are not burning, but will be attended to as soon as possible.

A Japanese crew to man the old Alaska freighter Nizina on her last trip across the Pacific to Japan, where she will be scrapped, reached Seattle this morning aboard the Ms. Helan Maru. The Nizina had been in Alaska service for many years. She was built in 1898 on the Great Lakes and was formerly the Eureka and the Ketchikan. The Alaska Steamship Company operated her.

HALIBUT SALES

The fish was brought in by six halibut vessels, one of which also carried 500 pounds of cod, which brought 3 cents per pound.

PLANS HIKE TO ALASKA

But Steamship Officials See Obstacles in Way of California Woman

Associated Press
Los Angeles, March 31.—In the last twenty years Mrs. Myra R. Collins, sixty-two, of Pacoima, has walked about 25,000 miles. She said today she plans to start in June on a hitch-hiking trip to Alaska.

"It has been a dream of mine for years to visit Alaska," she said. "I want to try my ability at hitch-hiking a steamer ride."

Seattle, March 31.—Though Mrs. Myra R. Collins, sixty-two, of Pacoima, Calif., may have walked 25,000 miles in the last twenty years, those familiar with Alaska travel saw serious obstacles today in her announced plan of hitch-hiking to the territory.

Steamship company officials, not wishing their names to be used, commented that if she stowed away on any of the regular line ships she would be unceremoniously returned after discovery.

Men have been guests aboard coast-guard vessels on trips to or from Alaska, but headquarters here was extremely doubtful if she would be welcome aboard any of the cutters.

It looked as though her remaining hope lay in thumbing a ride in a halibut boat or salmon troller. And the fishermen have not won fame for picking up hitch-hikers.

Vancouver Shipping

Vancouver, March 31.—Ms. Helan Maru yesterday was unloading a large consignment of general freight and four carloads of silk here. She shifted to Seattle overnight.

TO CONVERT LARGE LINER

Ss. President Madison, Long Idle in Seattle, Will Become Freighter

The former trans-Pacific passenger liner President Madison, which has been idle in Seattle harbor for some years, will be commissioned as a freighter and will leave in a week or ten days for the Orient with a cargo of lumber. It has been announced by John Cormode, vice-president of the American Mail Line, operators of the vessel.

The President Madison sank at her Seattle dock some years ago and was raised by the Pacific Salvage Company of Victoria, with the use of the Ss. Salvage King. It was one of the biggest salvage jobs of its kind in the history of Pacific Coast shipping.

After loading lumber at Seattle, the President Madison will proceed to Los Angeles harbor to complete her cargo and will sail for Shanghai with lumber, cotton, steel and general freight. She has a cargo capacity of 7,500 tons.

Built in 1921 at the New York Shipbuilding Corporation's plant at Camden, New Jersey, the President Madison is registered at Lloyd's as 14,187 tons, with a length of 516 feet, a beam of seventy-two feet and a depth of twenty-seven feet. She first operated between Victoria and the Orient as the Bay State.

She is a sister-ship to the President Grant, President McKinley, President Jefferson and President Jackson, now operated by the American Mail Line between Victoria, Seattle and ports in Japan, China and the Philippine Islands.

Now why don't ladies tell the truth
When a shoe clerk asks their size.
They can't help their feet no more than their face.
So why stoop to such lies.
They plant their dogs right on the stool.
Size 3s they say with a smile.
Three 3s is the mark inside their old shoes;
By one figuring, of course, that means 9.

VISITED YUKON IN EARLY DAYS

Capt. Neil Hall Passes at Halifax After Adventurous Career

Canadian Press
Halifax, March 31.—Captain Neil Hall, eighty-four, a veteran of Nova Scotia's "wooden ships and iron men" era, died at his home here yesterday. For twenty-nine years before his retirement last year he was port warden at Halifax.

One of the best known master mariners in the province, Captain Hall grew up by the sea at Sheet Harbor, N.S., and started his ocean career at sixteen when he shipped on a coastal schooner.

Captain Hall's eighteenth birthday found him a member of the crew of an old square-rigger, bound from New York to Bristol, a voyage which took twenty-two days. Within a few years he was master of the Brigantine C. C. Van Horn, with his first voyage from Halifax to London.

Travels took him to the Mediterranean, the West Indies, South America and the Pacific Coast ports as far north as the Yukon.

He first became associated with steam in 1888, when he signed as mate of the freighter Alpha. Less than two years later he became master of that pioneer steamer in the West Indies trade. He took the Alpha through to the Yukon River during the gold rush of 1898.
